. . . 2nd in Buckeye Border Conference

The 1976 Golf Team of Hicksville High School kept up the pace with the other golf teams the Aces have had over the years. This year's squad placed third at Sectionals, thus qualifying for Districts for the 4th year in a row, and was 2nd in the Buckeye Border Conference. The team as a whole also placed 5th in the tough Delta Invitational.

Ken Boyce was named Most Valuable Player for the second year in a row. The senior four-year letterman finished out his last season with the Aces in grand style. Other seniors that will be missed by Coach George Cherry are Jeff Killian, Kirk Parker, and Jed Pryor. Returning next year for the linksmen will be reserve stars, Monte McGough, Jodee Peters, Tim Gloor, and DeVonn Werder.

Coach Baringer Experiments With New Technique

Coach Baringer's 1976 volleyball team didn't have one of their finest seasons ever this year, however, the girls learned a new technique this year that will help them in the future. This technique is called the Bump, Set, Spike.

Jr. High, Varsity Girls CC Have Good Seasons

Before the year started, Coach Jerry Balser didn't have much to report in his Varsity Girls' and Jr. High boys' Cross Country teams. He wasn't sure how good they were. As usual though, he whipped them into one of the best they have ever had.

Like the reserves, the Jr. High and Girls did not have many dual meets, but were entered in some tough Invitationals. The boys' team took 4th at the Defiance Invitational where Ron Meyer edged out teammate Marty Blosser for team honors as he finished sixth overall and Marty seventh. Steve Bare was ninth for the Jr. High harriers and Bob Dull came in 22nd.

In the girls' meet Jodie Welly placed fourth and Gale Keeley was 15th. Also, at the Findlay Open, Jodie placed 9th and Gale was 27th against very stiff competition. Jodie, Gale, and the other members ran in their age groups at Defiance as the two girls placed 1st and 11th respectively and received medals for their efforts.

The 1976 version of the varsity Cross Country team was yet another splendid team. The team as a whole didn't make it to districts but the Wood brothers, Dean and Jim, went and both narrowly missed going to state.

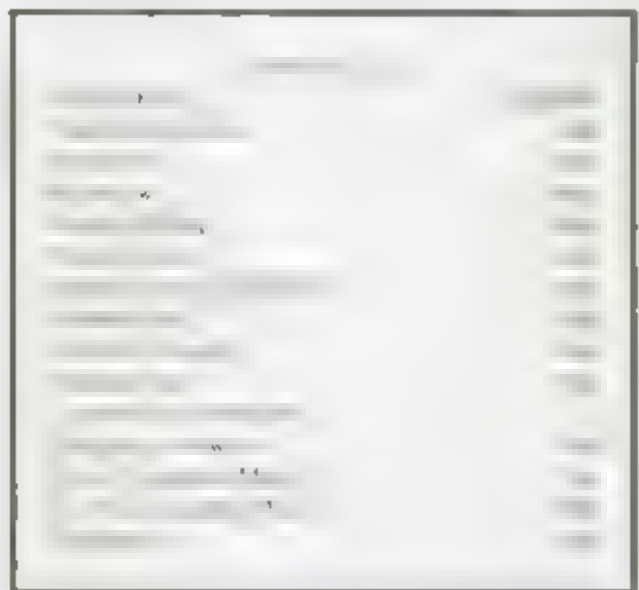

The team once again kept its strong hold on the B.B.C. by winning it, and placed 2nd at the G.M.C. conference.

Bibler had a banner year. They never met defeat during the year with the only blemish on their record being a 6-6 tie with Fairview. On offense, the combo of Steve Davis to Dave Richie accounted for most of their yards and points throughout the year, while on defense, they were led by the trio of Steve Campbell, James Whitaker, and Jim Myer.

Aces Gridders Have One of Best Seasons Ever

Hicksville's 1976 Big Red Machine, coached by Bill Metz, which was not expected to do so good this year, took believers out of many Aces fans as they finished the season with a 10-0 record. Many people such as the uptown coaches and the Crescent News labeled the Aces as chasers and didn't expect to see them up at the top fighting for the lead. But with determined senior leadership and help from talented underclassmen, the Aces grouped together to gain one of the best records ever achieved in Hicksville's grid history.

Averaging 33 points a game the Aces showed a very explosive offense but also proved that they wouldn't be moved around, as the defense held the opponents to an average of 2.8 points per game.

... Win NWBL and GMC Crowns

Along with the many other records that were set during the 1976 grid season were the Green Meadows Conference and Northwest Buckeye League titles as the Aces went undefeated in both leagues.

During the course of the season the Aces took on a first year squad in the Astoria Pilots. The Aces had little trouble with them and for that matter had no trouble with their first five opponents. The sixth game of the season was against arch-rival Fairview. The Aces remained cool about the game and proceeded to put down the Apaches 14-0. Everything was not over yet as HHS then had to play highly-touted Wayne Trace and tough Edgerton. The Aces hardly were fazed though as they defeated the Raider 20-0 and the Edgerton 34-0.

Edon's Blue Bombers were next and the Aces responded with another easy win. Finally, the tough Paulding Panthers were the final team in the way of an Aces undefeated season. It was tough at first, but in the end the Aces came out on top, 16-1.

10-0, "Ain't Too Bad"

Individually the Aces broke a few records with Duane Cline topping the average per carry for a rusher with a 9.0 yards per carry. Mike Quaintance achieved a record by carrying the ball 131 times which broke Howard Moores' old record. Kicking specialist Bob Luder- man set a field goal record by booting a 54 yard field goal.

Senior Mike Quaintance led the Aces stunning backfield as he totaled 770 yards in 131 carries. Duane Cline was close behind with 768 yards in 85 carries. Rod Vanderstelt was next in line with 601 yards in 81 carries. Rod, a junior, was the leading scorer for the Aces as he totaled 84 points. Quaintance was second in scoring with 60 points, and Cline third with 58 points.

Defensively, Senior tackle Pete Mon- roe led the gridders with 144 defensive points. Evan Coblenz was a close second with 138 markers, and Rick Whitaker third with 135 points.

In All-League selections, the Aces placed Randy Headley, Mike Quain- tance, Rod Vanderstelt, Bill Rohts, and Pete Monroe on first team GMC offense. Evan Coblenz, Rick Whitaker, and Van- derstelt garnered firsts on defense. Sec- ond team honors went to Cline. In the NWBL voting, firsts on offense were Headley, Cline, Kreg Hesselschwardt, and Bob Akerman. Defensively, Cline, Steve Thiel and Jim Gambrel were first team with second team honors going to Vanderstelt, Monroe, Quaintance, and Coblenz.

Record 14-11

The 1977 Hicksville High School wrestling team in only its fourth year in existence had perhaps its best year.

The squad started four rookies with the lettermen and forfeited classes every match. They were led by Senior co-captains Jim Brown and Mike Wright. Wright unfortunately was unable to make weight for any of the tournaments due to an illness.

Other seniors in their respective weight classes were Rob Wyatt (126), Mike Zimmerman (132), Dennis Camp (155), Jim Gambrel (167), and Steve Tonneas (175). The rest of the team consisted of juniors Brad Shull (145), Paul Overmyer (Hwt.) and sophomores Dana Ballinger (112) and Mark Zimmerman (138).

In the Buckeye Border tournament Ballinger placed 1st and was awarded most outstanding wrestler. Other place finishers were Brown, Camp, and Overmyer 2nds'; Mike Zimmerman, Wyatt and Shull 3rds'; Mark Zimmerman and Tonneas 4ths'.

At the GMC the grapplers couldn't defend their title as Edgerton took 1st, Fairview 2nd, and Hicksville 3rd. Ballinger again took first along with Tonneas. Brown, Camp, and Wyatt all placed 2nd, while Shull took 3rd and Zimmerman, Gambrel, and Overmyer placed 4th.

Seven to District, One to State

In the sectional tournament the Aces fortunately received a good draw enabling them to wrestle mostly unseeded opponents at first. Dana Ballinger, Jim Brown, Rob Wyatt, Mike Zimmerman, and Dennis Camp all advanced to the semi-finals. Rob and Dana then advanced to the finals where Wyatt won the championship and Ballinger took second. After losing in the semis, seniors Brown, Zimmerman, and Camp all wrestled back through the consolations as Brown and Camp took 3rds and Zimmerman a 4th. Juniors Shull and Overmyer were carried through to the consis, thus they both coped 4th places, qualifying them also for districts.

At districts the Aces ran into some hard luck and some tough opponents as only Wyatt and Ballinger were able to win first round matches. Ballinger kept winning however, and advanced to the finals where he defeated two-time state participant Tommy Guyer from Fremont St. Joe.

At state Ballinger lost his first match. The Aces throughout the year did a fine job considering their handicaps.

In his eighteenth year at HHS, Coach John Fast and his eighth grade basketball team had trouble all year putting it together as they ended the season with a 2-8 slate.

Coach Fast brought up two seventh graders, Brad Kline and Mike Volkert, who ended the season as the leading scorers for the Junior High Varsity squad. Eighth graders Steve Caryer, Todd Shock, and Rob Quaintance rounded out the starting five. Aces Tony Akerman, Steve Davis, and Dennis Vetter also saw quite a lot of action.

The seventh grade, under Coach Dallas Thiel also had a hard time all year as they could muster only one win all season.

However, seventh graders Kline and Volkert along with help from Bill Yocum, Jason Tuttle, and Mark Thiel will make for a more experienced eighth grade squad next year.

After his second year of coaching, Jim Weatherly realizes that as a coach you must take the good with the bad. Last year Coach Weatherly came up with an amazingly good 1st record. This year the Freshman team struggled all year, but finished the season with a 2-3 record.

Starting for the freshman squad this season were as follows: Mark Latham, Brett Howe, Fletcher Crowe, Steve Hostler and Bill Vincent, Jeff Smith and Brad Madsen. The coach saw quite a bit of action at the track and basketball and tennis posts.

JHS Cheerleaders Promote Spirit; Freshmen,

This year's Jr. High and Freshman cheerleading squads, who were advised by Miss Candance Overmyer, learned from and helped the varsity all year long. During the fall they helped in the concessions as they also did during the winter sports, along with selling lollipops and keeping the coat check in order.

Varsity Cheers Through Successful Year

This year's varsity squad of cheerleaders found a lot to cheer about, as they with their advisor, Mrs. Jean Siler, boosted the spirit throughout all the sports of Hicksville High School during this rather successful year.

Through the year the varsity cheerleaders consisting of Captain Joni Slattery, Jill Rodocker, Carli Cherry, Beth Hook, Mary Lou Whonsetler, Pam Driver, and Stephania Wheeler, performed the basic duties of the cheerleader by painting signs for locker rooms and walls; making posters; putting on pep sessions; selling of lollipops at games; also to raise money they put on a bake sale.

Varsity Basketball Team Goes Through

Aces 1976-77 Basketball Team coached by Mr. Tom Hallett wasn't as successful as last years' squad, but managed to end the season with an 8-1 slate.

Lack of experience in the line up was the key to the Aces up and down season, although underclassmen Mitch Slattery, Steve Thiel, and Tom Turnbull fought hard all season to contribute to the Aces attack.

Seniors Randy Headley, Jeff Kline, Steve Snyder, and Jim Stimmel made for a solidly balanced squad. Junior Bob Luderman also added his talents to the teams offensive charge.

During the course of the season, the Aces couldn't put it all together, but towards the middle of the year, the squad started playing team basketball. The latter part of the year consisted of up and down playing as the Aces would win every other game. Tournament action showed more of the same as the Aces won the first game but fell to Spencer Sharples in the Sectional Finals 70-30.

Stimmel was named to the first team in both the Green Meadows and Buckeye Border Conferences. He also was voted to the second team of the District and he also was named as a State Honorable Mention. Headley was voted to the second team in both the GMC and the BBC. He also received honorable mention in the district.

Girls' Basketball Teams Look to Future

The 1977 Hicksville Girls' Basketball squads went different routes as the varsity compiled a mediocre 7-8 record and the reserves finished a fine 12-2. In the opening round of tournament the Aces drew unbeaten and eventual state champ Delphos St. John who easily defeated them.

All year long the Aces were led by two time MVP Lori Kreg, a senior, and sophomore gunner Jodee Peters. Lori set a school record for most rebounds in a single game.

This year's intramural boys' basketball tournament was full of surprises. The games were played at 7:15 in the morning before school. Eight teams participated this year with Commissioner Scott Cromwell supervising.

In regular season action the Electric Bananas ended up perfectly with 7 wins and no losses. The Little Kings, composed primarily of wrestlers, finished second with a 6-1 record.

In the post-season tournament action the Bananas defeated the Necromancers to move to the finals 47-26, while the Little Kings downed the Super Stones in a hard fought 32-23 victory.

In the championship tilt, the Little Kings surprised everyone but themselves, as they defeated the never-say-die Bananas 24-23 for the championship.

Varsity Club Now Includes Girls

This year's officers for the Varsity Club were as follows: Mike Quaintance, president; Mike Zimmerman, vice-president; Jim Stimmel, secretary-treasurer.

In order to be in the club, two Varsity letters must be earned by both boys and girls.

One of the activities the club did this year was to sell programs at the basketball games. The members also held ropes at the games to help keep people off the newly finished gym floor.

A black and white photograph of a large group of men, likely soldiers, standing in several rows. They are wearing uniforms and caps. The image is grainy and has a high-contrast, almost stencil-like appearance. Some individuals have numbers or letters on their uniforms, such as "1736 E" and "1736 L" visible on the front row.

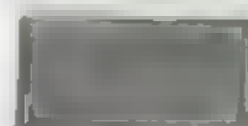

Freshman trackster Julie Peter tied the record of 1:11 in the 100 yard dash. It is currently shared by K. Craig 1975, J. Kline 1976, and J. Peter 1977.

Varsity Cindermen See Saw Through Year . . .

Mr. Jerry Balser's Varsity Track team were like a bouncing ball all year long . . . up and down. They showed power and finesse in winning the Panther Relays, placing 3rd in the BBC and crushing GMC foe Antwerp. Then they showed total collapse as in the Ayersville Invitational, GMC League meet and Sectionals. However, they were rather successful as two went to district and one to state.

The team was paced by senior Bob Akerman and junior Jim Wood. Bob placed in three events at sectionals, the pole vault 4th, low hurdles 3rd, and high hurdles 3rd. Wood was 2nd in the two mile and then at districts placed 5th qualifying for state.

Next year's varsity team may well profit from individuals of this year's Reserve baseball squad coached by Mr. Jim Walther and Mr. Mike Cleland.

The team started off with a few quick losses but regrouped for awhile only to fall again and finish at 7 wins - 8 losses.

Russ Cummins provided most of the punch throughout the year with contributions from Steve Hostetler, Marty Shock, Mark Lothamer, and Scott Levy. Cummins pitched for the Aces also and was the primary starter all year.

Varsity Diamondmen Carry Heavy Bats

The 1977 Varsity Baseball team coached by Mr. Lee Peter was one of the better Aces' baseball teams in the last few years, but still could not keep from choking in the tournament as in earlier years. The team finished 19-9 because of a strong seven game win finish. Through the year they were led by heavy hitters Rod Vanderstelt, Steve Tonneas, Duane Cline, Steve Thiel, Randy Headley, and Tom Turnbull. In the pitching department, Vanderstelt again shone as the brightest star.

Almost equally as well was Gary Slattery, Bill Rohrs, Randy Headley and Marty Shock saw action too.

GAA Tries Point System,

Advisor Deb Baringer and club president Lana Smith set up a table of activity points each member had to acquire before receiving her Girls' Athletic Association award.

Another new approach was the addition of the sports of gymnastics, tennis, and softball.

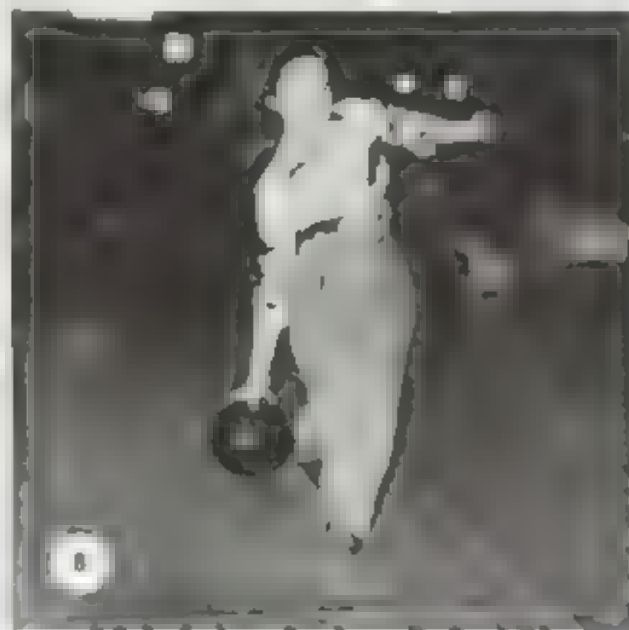

Many of the girls participated in bowling. In the annual tournament, the team captured second place.

Tennis was set up so that each person or set of double could arrange to play their opponents on one of two days at their own convenience.

Softball was set up on a round-robin schedule, but due to interference of team members being on the track team, the sport did not fare too well.

Gymnastics Interests Many

Mrs. Baringer tried a new project this year - starting a gymnastics team. About 20 girls participated in learning the basics of floor exercise, tumbling, and parallel bars, then were urged to work on their own on what they were the best on. In future years, the team hopes to compete interscholastically.

"Not Fragile" was the champion team of volleyball, going undefeated. The 4 competing teams played in round-robin style in the fall.

The annual G.A.A. banquet was held in Bryan, Ohio. As always, the first order of business was tackling the mountains of food. After dessert, Mrs. Baringer awarded G.A.A. pins or numerals to the 6 members who had compiled their 100 activity points.

Last on the agenda was reading through the proposed constitution. Discussion was held on the major points, then a vote taken, the outcome of which being to accept the constitution.

Before departing, the group also elected new officers to replace president Lana Smith, vice president Gale Keeley, and secretary-treasurer Dianna Rohloff.

Poverty Child Is JCL Project,

McAdams Assumes State Position

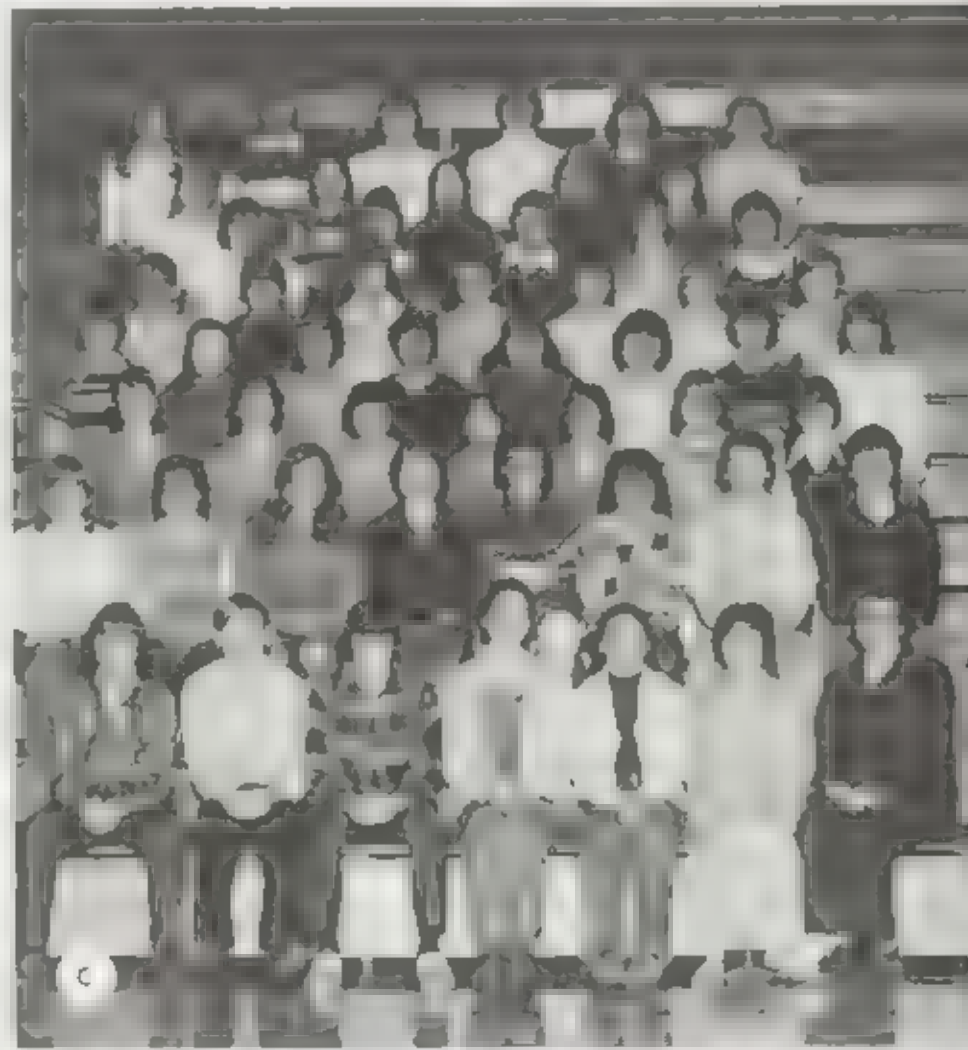

Hicksville's Junior Classical League had five members and Mrs. McAdams go to National Convention at Rochester University, Rochester, N.Y. Cheryl Hanna, Audine Hill, Lana Smith, Joel Taylor, and Ed Welly attended workshops, took tests, and participated in recreational activities and seminars. Mrs. McAdams, sponsor of HJCL, ran a workshop, was involved in various functions concerning state chairmen, and helped proctor tests. The convention was held at the beginning of August.

HJCL participants received several awards at national, and turned in a Club-of-the-Month entry to OJCL. This entry received a first place trophy at OJCL Convention.

Inductions were held in October with several Latin I members being initiated. In December the club observed Saturnalia. Presents were sent to Fountain Manor. Also, residents received Valentines in February, which were made by Latin I and II students.

Joel Taylor, OJCL President, ended his two years in that office. Joel ran for the office in his sophomore year and won against stiff competition. His second run for the office was without competition.

This year he planned for a three-day convention. Despite the weather and the school closings the plan went through and was considered very successful.

'77 Ohio Convention

Is Highlight of HJCL Year

OJCL Convention in March had excitement for members as the club traveled to Ohio State. Among other activities, students took tests and attended assemblies.

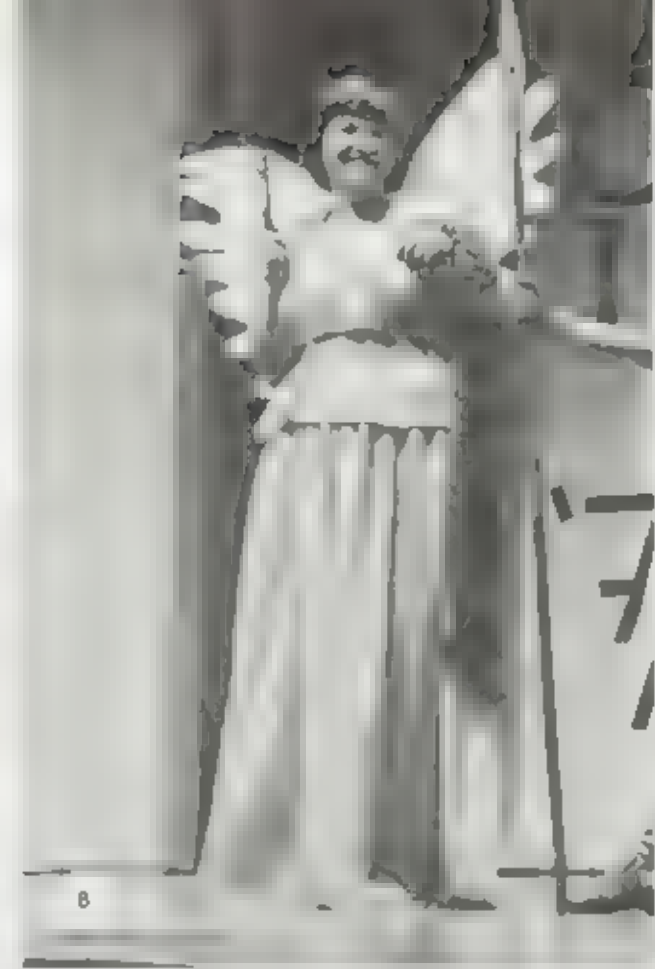

Awards received by the club were 3rd for scrapbook (made by Latin I), 3rd for project (made by Latin II), and 3rd for the banner (made by Tom Welly).

Latin Week was observed in April. The project, scrapbook, and banner were displayed, Latin I and II students boosted the language by placing signs in lockers and on walls.

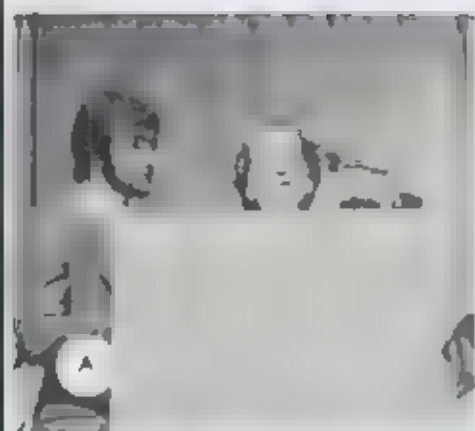

The final meeting was held in May. Slaves were freed and made citizens, and citizens were made senators. Next year's officers were announced and plans for National Convention were discussed.

This year, the club sponsored a foster child, P. Bhagabati from Bangladesh. The only money making project was a car wash, May 14.

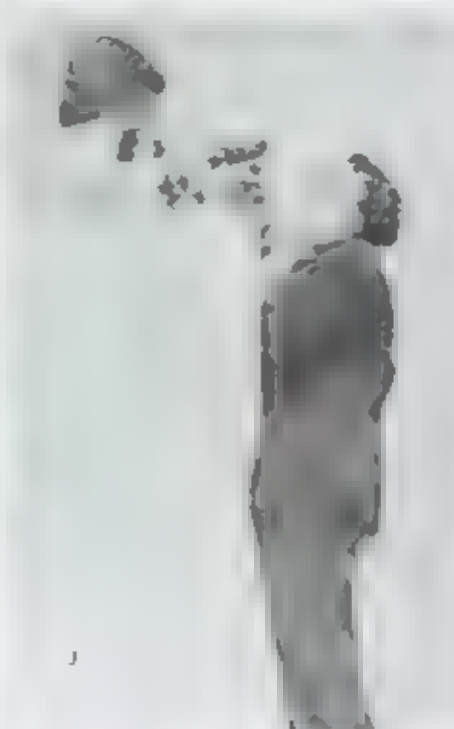

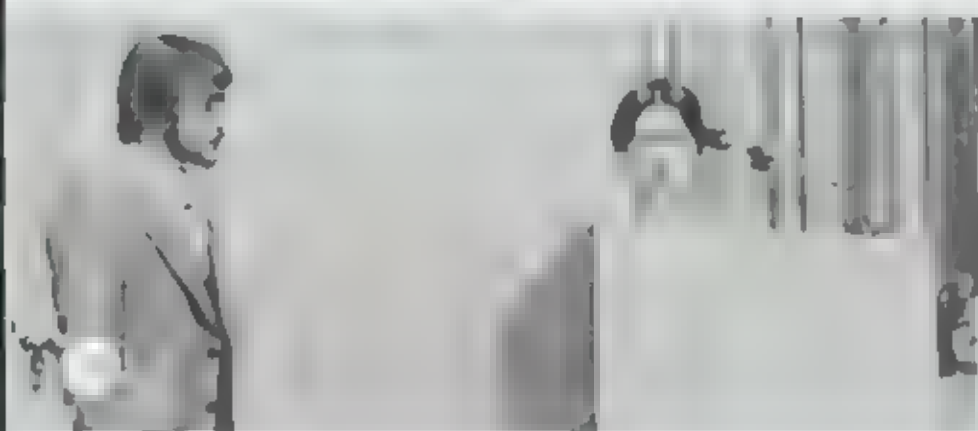

Officers for the year were Consul - Audine Hill. Vice-consul - Tom Evans. Scriba-quaestor - Robin Mettert; and Nuntius - Mel Bice.

Spanish Club Sponsors Child

Spanish Club, advised by Miss Susan Krout, held their meeting on the second Wednesday of each month.

Mexican folk dancing, singing Spanish songs, a presentation of famous painters, and filmstrips highlighted the meetings, along with Chris Walters' presentation of slides from her trip to Mexico.

Club members enjoyed a Christmas party, complete with the breaking of a pinata made by members, and a taco party in February.

The club's special service project was the sponsoring of a 12 year old poverty girl in Guatemala. Money-making projects for the year were the selling of Christmas candles and posters.

Bicentennial Induction,

Ohio Capital

Highlight NHS Year

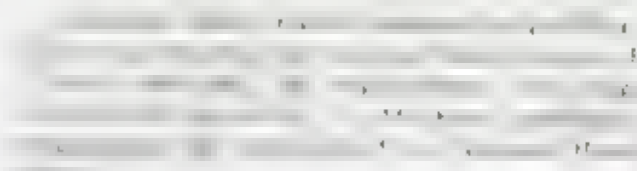

The Bicentennial induction ceremony, held Wednesday, December 1, 1976, saw the admittance of 18 new members. This ceremony was different from others in the past as eight flags were present with Mrs. Wise explaining the history of each. The Choir was also a new addition to the ceremony, as the group performed "America the Beautiful" and "The Star Spangled Banner." Members also lit the candles of character, service, scholarship, and leadership. Mr. Bruce Smith, principal at Ayersville High School, gave the address.

Special activities were a trip to St. Francis College at Fort Wayne, Indiana, and a trip to Columbus April 20. Members toured the State House and saw the house and senate in session. The trip was highlighted by a tour of the Supreme Court Building where the group traveled to the 40th floor to view the city from a view of the city.

Dennis Camp and Jeff Durre were nominated for the position of president and vice-president. Mr. Camp was elected president and Mr. Durre was elected vice-president. Mr. Camp was also elected to the position of treasurer. Mr. Camp was also elected to the position of secretary. Mr. Camp was also elected to the position of member-at-large.

The year ended with a banquet May 1 at the Ohio Statehouse. The banquet was announced. Tuija Talvite, exchange student from Finland, was the speaker. Officers for the year were Cheryl Durre, president; Jeff Durre, vice-president; Stacy Campbell, secretary; and Loretta Smith, treasurer. Mrs. Wise advised the group.

Spoondrift Takes on New Look

At the end of 1976, the Spoondrift took on a new look. In January, the paper came out with a different front page. The school emblem of the four Aces was added to the right hand corner of the page. The title "Spoondrift" was changed to black.

During the year, the staff participated in the contests. In the NSPA contest, the staff received an excellent rating. In the NOSPAC contest, Spoondrift received 3rd. Paula Hergenroether received 3rd in Feature Writing, and Roberta Ream received 1st in Columns.

The staff for 1976-77 was:
 Editor - Cathy Conley
 Press Manager - Roberta Ream
 Business Manager - Lonny Wires
 Sports Writers - Duane Cline, James Wood, Dianna Rohlf
 Typists - Carolyn Meyer, Karen McDorman, Susan Pocratsky

Hixonian Adds Color

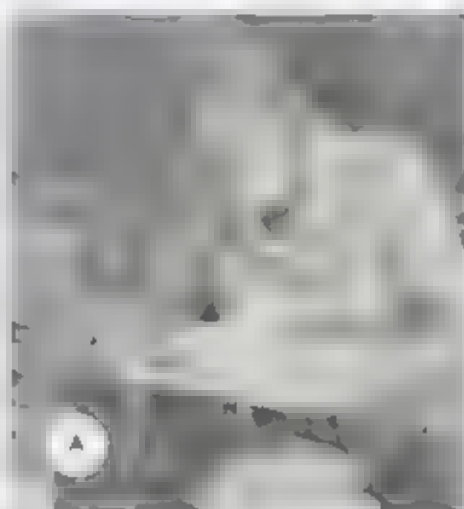

This year's Hixonian Staff consisted of 13 seniors. Jim Brown, Lana Smith, and Joel Taylor headed up the three sections in the book, whose theme was the senior class song, "Theme From Mahogany."

In June, four members, Mrs. McAdams, and Mrs. Pryor traveled to Moorhead University in Kentucky for a workshop. Joel Taylor, Lana Smith, Jed Pryor, and Jim Brown learned methods in making the yearbook. The Journalism II class went to an all day workshop at Napoleon High School in October.

This year's book was different in the fact that cluster captions were used instead of captions under the pictures. Color blocks of brown and orange (to match the cover colors) were used in the Event Section.

Key Personnel this year were

Tri-Editors - Jim Brown, Lana Smith, Joel Taylor
Business Manager - Robin Adcock

Students Work in Library, Office

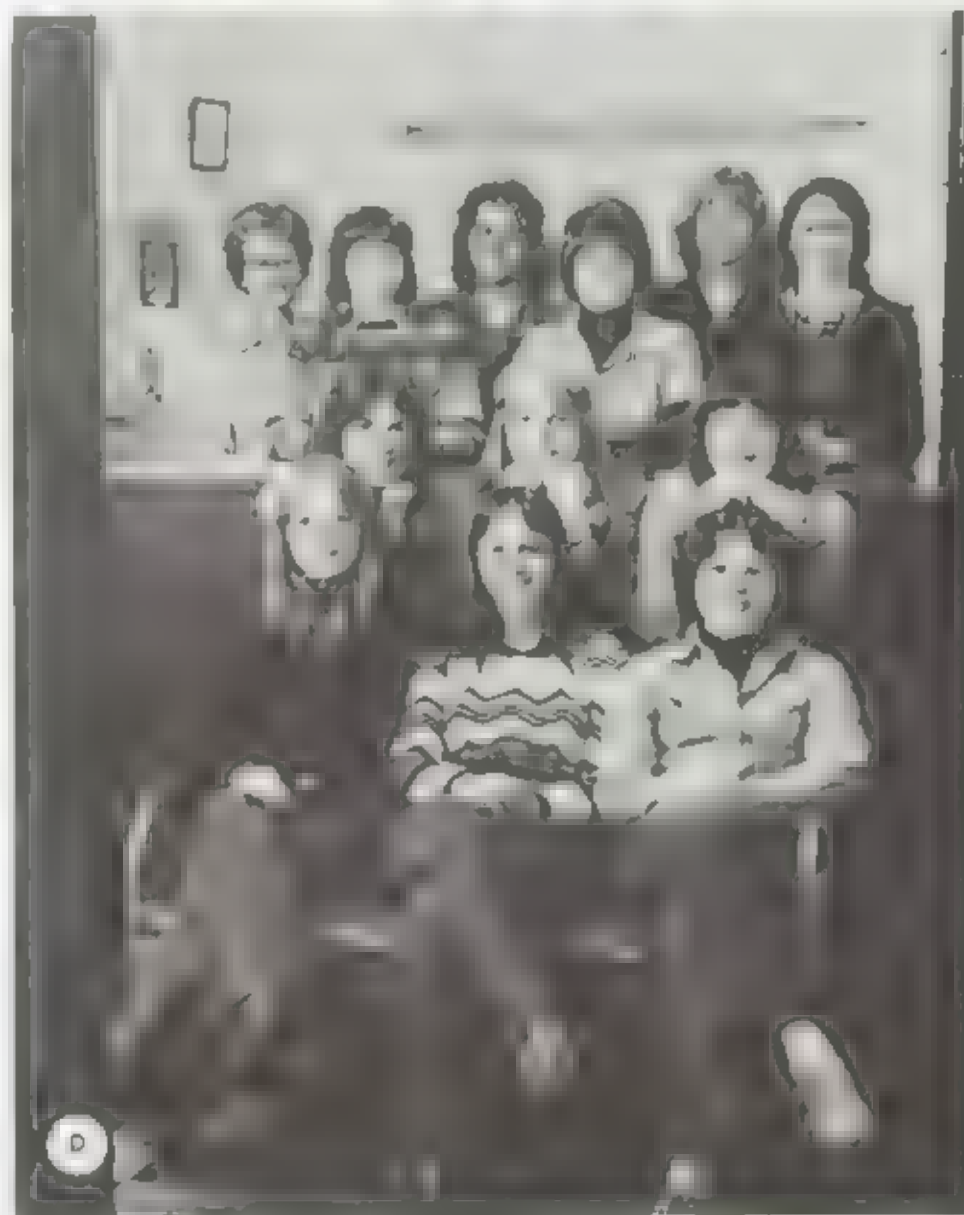

Six high schoolers assisted Mrs. Longworth in the library this year. Librarians worked during their free mods and helped students find books, and checked in, checked out, and renewed books.

Assistants learned to arrange cataloging cards alphabetically, recover magazine items as listed in Reader's Guide, and stamp and process new acquisitions. They also helped with the annual inventory.

The girls who worked in the office did a number of errands and jobs.

They answered the phone, took messages and delivered them.

The girls did typing for Mr. Kurry and several teachers. They also mimeographed papers when needed.

Student Councils Sponsor Dances

President for this year's Sr. High Student Council was Rob Wyatt, vice president was Duane Cline, and secretary-treasurer was Jeff Wonderly.

The many activities of the Council included planning the Homecoming and Sadie Hawkins dances. New this year was the addition of hall monitors in the first floor hall. The reason for these was to try and stop the increased amount of money that was being stolen from lockers and locker rooms.

The group also discussed having a "Student Council Exchange" with a couple of area schools. This would be done in order to observe the methods that other schools use to run their system. However, due to inclement weather and school cancellations, no exchange was made.

The Jr. High Student Council was involved in and responsible for the planning of two major social events for the Jr. High students. The first was a formal winter dance, and the second was a spring dance. Both of these dances which were record hops, raised money for the 7th and 8th grade class funds.

The Jr. High Student Council was also involved in the planning of a Student Conduct Code in the Jr. High study hall as well as many other projects and ideas that benefited the student body of Hicksville Jr. High School.

THE HIGH STUDENT COUNCIL FOR THE YEAR 1960-1961

Honorable President: [Name] Vice President: [Name]
Secretary: [Name] Treasurer: [Name]

Members: [List of names]

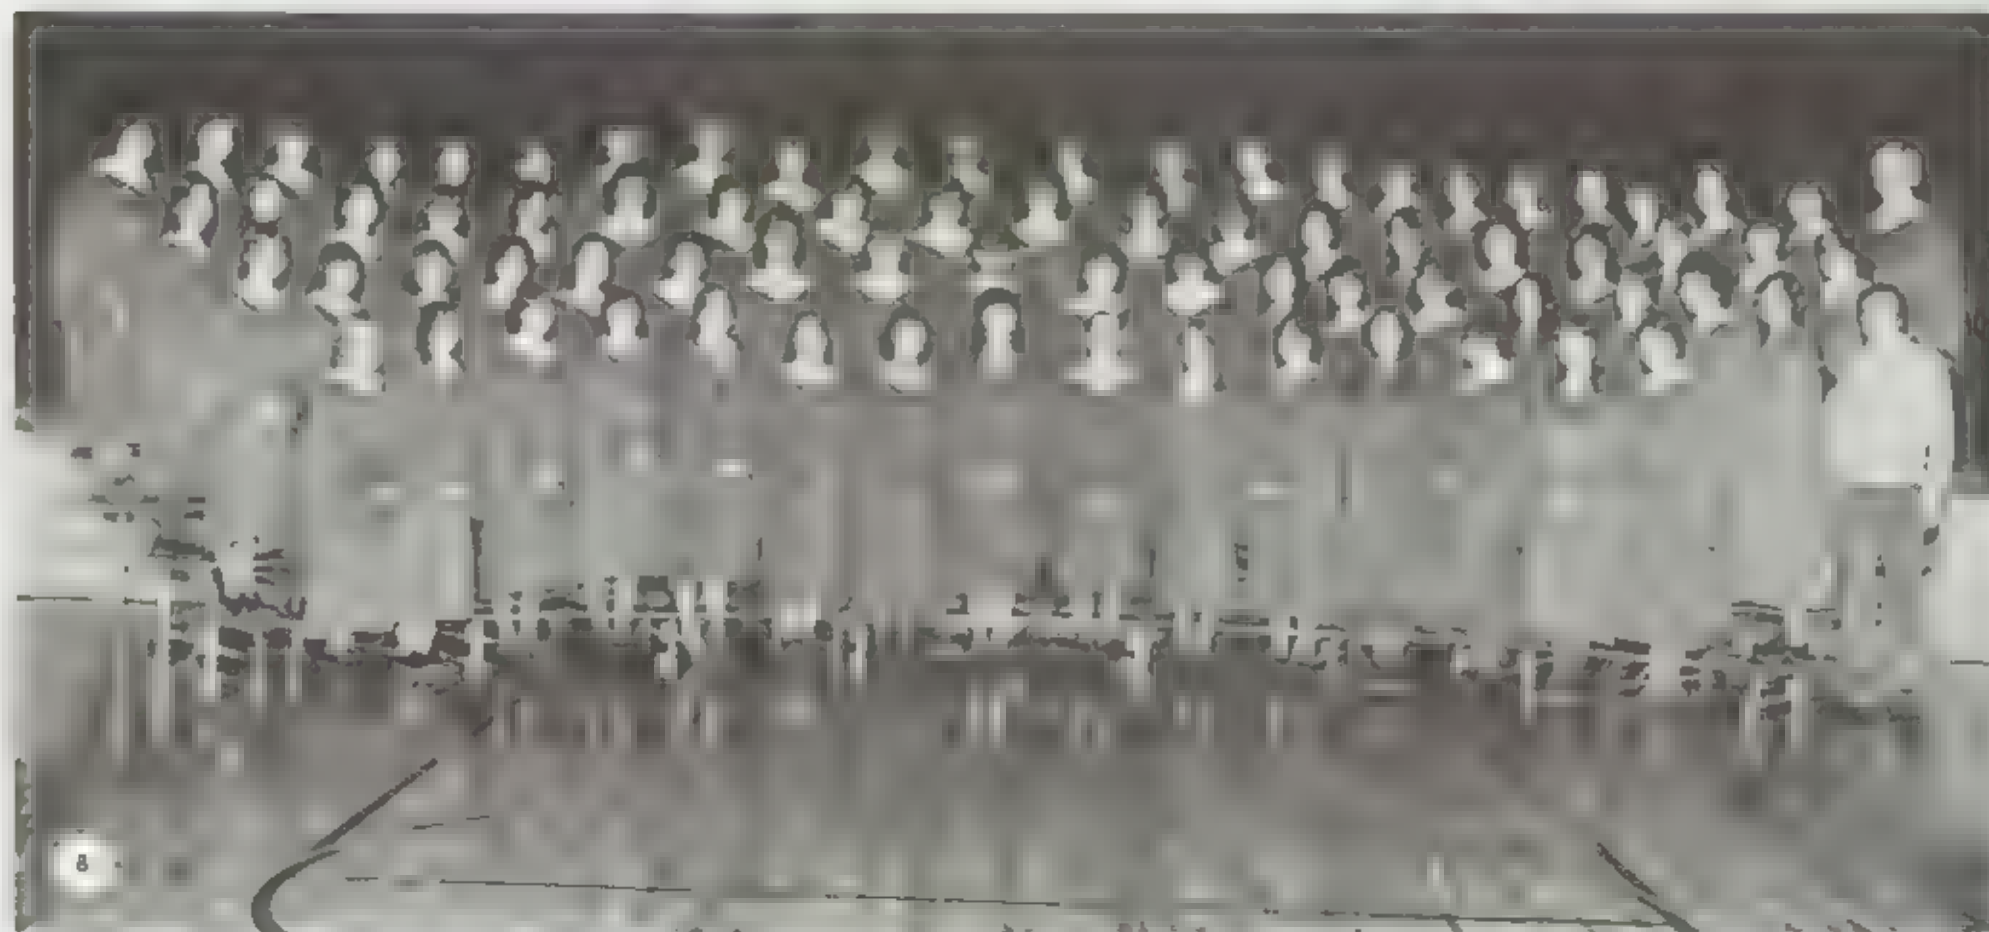

The High Student Council for the year 1960-1961 was organized on September 1, 1960. The council's purpose is to represent the students of the school and to work for the improvement of the school environment.

The council has held several meetings since its formation. At each meeting, the members discuss the current issues facing the school and develop plans to address them. Some of the issues discussed include student discipline, school safety, and the quality of education.

In addition to holding meetings, the council also organizes various activities for the students. These activities include field trips, social events, and fundraisers. The council's goal is to provide the students with a well-rounded educational experience.

The High Student Council for the year 1960-1961 is proud of the work it has done so far. It looks forward to continuing its efforts to improve the school environment and to providing the students with the best possible education.

'77 High School Choir

Is 77 Voices Strong

The 1976-77 edition of the high school choir contained about seventy members who performed at several different concerts throughout the school year. They did a candlelight processional to open their performance at the Christmas concert. One of the selections at the concert was the Hallejuah Chorus which had not been done in a concert for quite some time.

Also, the Choir performed at an assembly for the student body at HHS.

Other performances included the Spring Concert in May, which was the last concert for the senior choir members, the National Honor Society Induction Ceremony, Graduation, and a concert at the Wesley United Methodist Church in Bryan, Ohio.

Freshman Ensemble, Mixed Choir

Give Performances, Gain Experience

The Freshman choir performed at many different concerts during the past school year. Those included were the Christmas Concert at the High School, the Christmas assembly in front of the school body, and an assembly at the grade school. Some of the freshman choir members were allowed to try out to be able to sing at the Graduation ceremonies.

A group of twelve freshmen girls made up the ensemble this year. Each girl had a matching outfit of a different color to their performances. The girls sang at all the regular concerts including the Christmas Concert, the assembly in front of the student body for Christmas, and the spring concert in May.

The girls also sang at a few different programs. These included the Nurses' Banquet at Derek's restaurant, The Mother-Daughter Banquet at the Presbyterian Church, and a few selections at the Wesley United Methodist Church in Bryan, Ohio.

The Freshman Ensemble performed at the high school Christmas program, the Christmas assembly, and a few Christmas programs. Performing at the Presbyterian Church, Mother-Daughter Banquet, and Wesley United Methodist Church are some of the Ensemble's community performances.

Junior High Choirs

JUNIOR HIGH CHORUS

This year's junior high choir performed at all the concerts that the high school choirs performed at, and also went to the grade school to give a concert there. The regular concerts that the junior high performed at were the Christmas Concert, the Christmas assembly at the high school, and the Spring concert in May.

JUNIOR HIGH GIRLS' CHORUS

As a take-off of the junior high mixed chorus, Mr. Jinks put together a group of junior high girls who also performed at various concerts. The girls sang at the Christmas concert, the Christmas assembly at the high school, and also went to the grade school to entertain the younger children and the elementary faculty.

Jr. High Concert Band

Receives "Excellent" Rating

Jr. High Concert Band started off the season at Christmas time by participating in the annual Christmas Concert. On April 24, a Spring "Pops" Concert was presented by the various bands. Selections by the Jr. High Band were "Yesterday," "I Honestly Love You," "Soul Trumpets," and "The Hustle." Linda Milner was the recipient of the Director's Award.

District contest was held May 7 at Ayersville. The band performed "Citadel," "Four Freedoms Overture," and "Three Songs of Colonial America." They received a rating of a "II" or "Excellent."

H.H.S. Concert Band Receives "Good" Rating, Travels to Fairview

The debut of the High School Concert Band under the direction of Miss Donna Coleman came at the annual Christmas concert. A few of the selections were "Greensleeves," "Sleigh Ride," "Great Songs of Christmas," and "Christmas Joy."

At the Spring "Pops" Concert, April 1, the group performed such numbers as "A Fifth of Beethoven," "Selections from Jaws suite," "Selections from Rhapsody," and "Selections from the Sting." The numbers selected for contest were also presented.

Due to the infamous "Winter of '77", the District Band Contest was cancelled and State Band Contest was held on April 30. The selections presented were "Washington Post March," three selections from "English Suite" and "Quartz Mountain." The judges gave the group a "III" or "Good" rating.

On May 10, the band traveled to Fairview High School for a Defiance County Band Festival. Bands featured were Aversville, Tinora, Hicksville, and Fairview. Hicksville performed "Washington Post," "Jaws," and "Quartz Mountain." This was the last public performance for the senior members of the band.

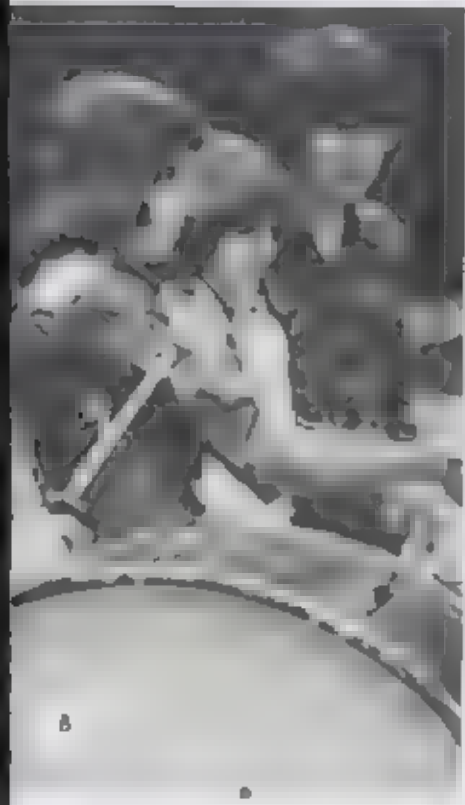

As the outstanding band member Miss Coleman presented to Jeff Durre the John Philip Sousa Award for 1977.

Pep, Stage Bands Have Exceptional Year

PEP BAND

New this year for the HHS Pep Band was the purchase of red and white hats. The group provided pep and enthusiasm at most away football games and all Varsity boys home basketball games. A first this year was appearances at the girls' home basketball games.

STAGE BAND

Rehearsing two nights a week for two hours each night this year's edition of the Stage Band made its debut at a Varsity home basketball game. On May 4, various soloists were featured at a concert held at the high school gym. Some of the selections featuring soloists were "Funky Turtle," "Jazzman," "Hey Jude," "Shaft," "Mandy," "Country Road," and "Walk Him Up the Stairs."

Novelty Is Majorettes' Theme

HHS Majorettes began their season on Memorial Day 1976 in the local parade. The week of July 11-16, was spent at Smith-Walbridge Camp in Syracuse, Indiana. There the girls learned many twirling and novelty routines.

At the Defiance County Fair, the twirlers performed a novelty dance routine to "The Pink Panther."

At Homecoming, the girls twirled fire batons and also jitterbugged to the tune "Rock Around the Clock."

Head Majorette Robin Adcock was featured on a special number entitled "Fly, Robin, Fly."

On Parent's Night, senior twirlers Robin Adcock and Stacy Campbell performed a duet to the Senior class song, "Theme from Mahogany."

Pom Squad Attends Camp

The squad attended Tri-State University in Angola, Indiana. They won the spirit baton on the first day. Throughout the week, they received three red ribbons. At the final competition they won the snap and union trophy.

They performed at all the home football games and one away game. They also performed for a couple basketball games.

A Junior High Pom Squad was started. They performed with the Junior High Band at the last home game.

Art Students Show Talent in Diverse Areas

Miss Barbara Dennison took charge of the art department this past year. She taught 7th grade art, Art I, and Art II. Several students were taking their third year of art, but were combined with the Art II classes.

The art classes were exposed to a variety of art processes and materials. The main objective for the 7th grade art classes was to introduce the students to basic art materials, processes, and concepts; and also to develop a positive attitude toward art in each student.

Projects for the 7th grade included paper maché sculpture, color study, linoleum block printing, as well as a variety of basic drawing and design projects.

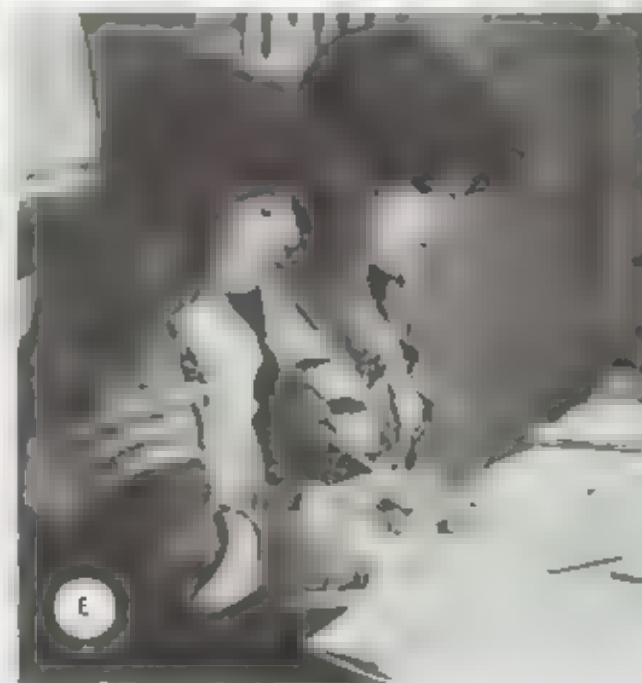

Art I was designed to give those students who were interested in art, or those who had no experience in art, a chance to experiment with and learn about basic art materials and methods.

Art II was for those students who had completed Art I and wanted to further their knowledge and abilities in art.

Both Art I and II classes contained units in drawing, color study, painting, printmaking, sculpture, and commercial art.

The Art I students worked through a series of basic projects in the above units, while the Art II students were able to choose from a variety of projects within each unit.

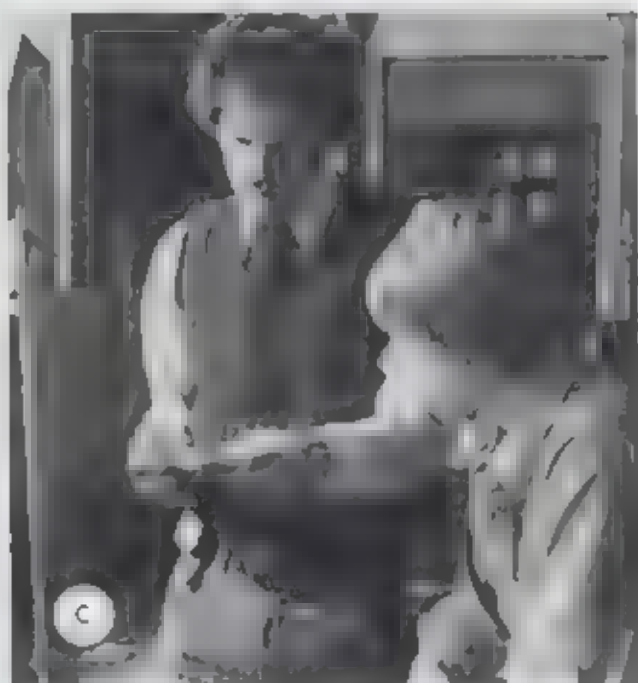

The main objective for all the art classes was to give each student an opportunity to discover at least one or more methods or materials through which he or she could successfully express him- or herself.

A - Jr. High Art students worked with color and design principles by designing paper birds. B - Sculpture in wood scraps proves interesting from all directions. Art I students' work is highlighted here in the lobby showcase. C - Third year art student Kari Newman uses the finishing touches into one of her projects in the unit on sculpture. D - Wire sculptures from the Art II class are either realistic or slightly surreal. E - Rita Clark and Robin Caperton work on their designs for putting to use the ideas they form from the study of color.

Basic Ideas Plus Individual Talent

Equal Industrial Arts Projects

Industrial Arts classes were under the supervision of Mr. Tim Bibler. In his classes, he began with simple drawing techniques and the use of drawing tools, such as the protractor.

Class projects dealt with such areas as woodworking, graphic art, metal working (including welding, brazing, and using metal-working machinery), working with sheet metal, and compiling foundry techniques.

Woodworking projects included picnic tables, gun cabinets, bunk beds, chess boards, stereo and speaker cabinets, cross bows, and toy chests.

Eighth grade students did work with technical drawings.

A - Tim Fowler adjusts the pressure on the vise before beginning his project. B - Some students made gun cabinets for their woodworking project. C - Mr. Bibler shows Doug Sweeney how to calculate the angle at which his board needs to be cut.

Safety precautions, such as the ones Jack Rodocker demonstrates, are essential to prevent injury. E - Terry Middaugh starts to clean up the lathe before working on his own project.

Business Courses Prepare Students for Outside Job Market

Mr. James Walther and Mrs. Stella Cline headed up the Business department. Mrs. Cline taught the Typing I and II classes, which learned the rudiments of typing. The students in office practice under her direction learned inventory techniques, filing, and working with payrolls. The machines they practiced on were those of a regular office - the dictaphone, adding machine, and duplicating machines. Stenography lessons advised the students on the basics of taking shorthand and taking dictation.

Carl Cherry and Diane Burns find good math skills necessary in keeping financial records correct. Pam Bailey learns how to handle an office practice. C - Speed combined with accuracy goal. Nancy Applegate and Susan Tomlinson strive for in typing class. D - Kent Brown and his classmates learn how to correctly read letters. E - Consumer economy students Randy Headley and Scott Peters fill out their workbooks following the procedures they have just learned in class.

Sharpening Math Skills, Filing Forms

Expand Business Students' Knowledge

Mr. James Walther's Bookkeeping classes started off with review: of the basic mathematic operations. From there they moved into percentages, interest rates, discounting, taxes, banking procedures, clerical records, and the elements of accounting. They also were taught to fill out business forms such as balance sheets used in office procedures.

The business law class taught students what laws were concerning businesses. They became familiar with contracts and what goes into making a contract. Bailments, Commercial Paper, and the elements that make up a enforceable contract.

Drivers' Ed. Readies 16-Year-Olds

for Traveling Ohio's Roads

Seeing that HHS students learned to drive properly was once again the task of Mr. George Cherry, who taught the Driver Education class.

In 1971 Mr. Cherry had selected the book "Driver Education," which was published by Laidlaw and Written by Strauser, Eales, and Aaron.

Along with that book, a workbook had to be completed by each student in the course of one semester.

This, along with mimeographed tests and state patrol visits, had to total 36 hours of class time. Six clock-hours behind the wheel, 30 hours of in-car observation, and parallel parking completed the work.

A - Students check the posters for hints to complete their workbooks. B - Holding tightly to the steering wheel, Wendy Blosser concentrates on her driving skills. C - Ardently studying, these Drivers' Ed. students try to get in their 36 hours of class time. D - "I could have sworn he said, 'Turn right,' and I thought I was immediately!"

Students Learn Independency Through Courses in Home Ec.

Students learned many tips on such topics as grooming, cooking, sewing, consumer buying, and marriage in the Home Economics courses under the tutelage of Mrs. Patricia Miller, who taught the classes of 8th Grade Home Ec., Home Ec. I and II, Marriage and Family, and Gourmet Cooking.

Several boys were interested in 8th Grade Home Ec. this past year. Working alongside the girls, they studied the very basic skills of cooking and sewing, and further developed their interests in home economics.

In Home Ec. I, the students learned about themselves with units in good grooming and personal development. Learning these skills would enable them to prepare for getting a job later on.

Other basic skills in cooking and sewing were studied. They prepared many simple foods and in sewing completed some simple garments.

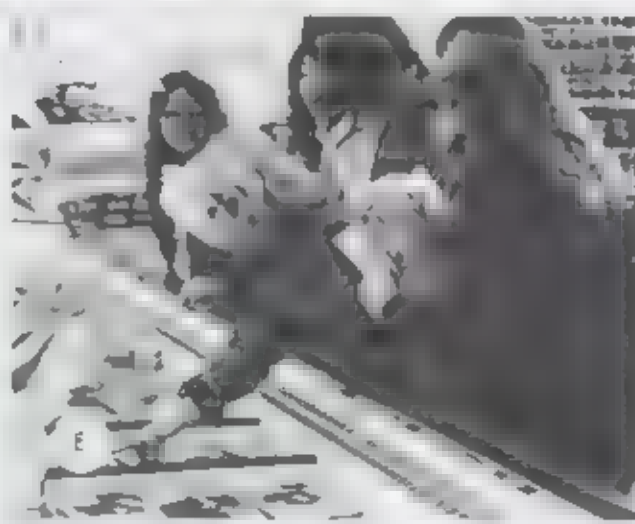

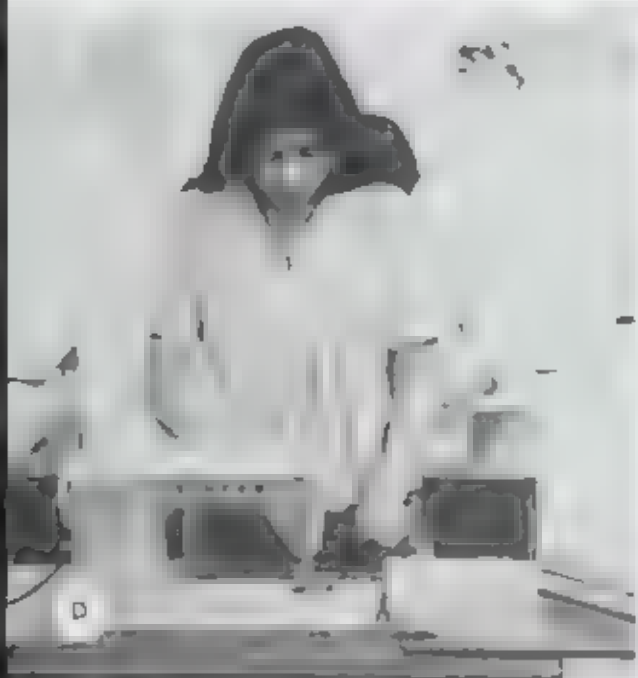

In Home Ec. II, the students studied the family structure, dating problems, and consumer buying. Working with consumer problems, the class visited a grocery store in town.

Working with clothing projects, each was allowed to make three pieces of their own choosing, though most opted for more advanced articles of apparel.

At the end of the year, the class ran a nursery school for four-year-olds. The students learned many pointers on learning how to work with younger children, such as meeting up with a child's habits and interests.

Students studied different aspects of marriage, such as dating, family income, insurance and house buying, and having children, in the marriage and family course. To further expand their knowledge of marriage and its preparations, the class took field trips to a local jewelry store, a realtor's office, and the maternity ward at the local hospital.

Gourmet cooking seemed to be an interesting subject to those involved. The class explored all the areas of food preparation, and students tried their hand at making many different foods, such as souffles and lasagne.

A - Eight graders Tim Fowler, Bill Wheeler, and Frank Simpson are working on their sewing projects. B - The members of the Marriage and Family course are studying the importance of family. C - A student is working on a sewing machine. D - The sewing machine absorbs all of Monica Jasso's attention. Following a lesson on sewing, she is so busy that she can't even look up. E - The students are learning about the importance of family. F - The students are learning about the importance of family.

Math Classes Progress

From Fractions Through Trig

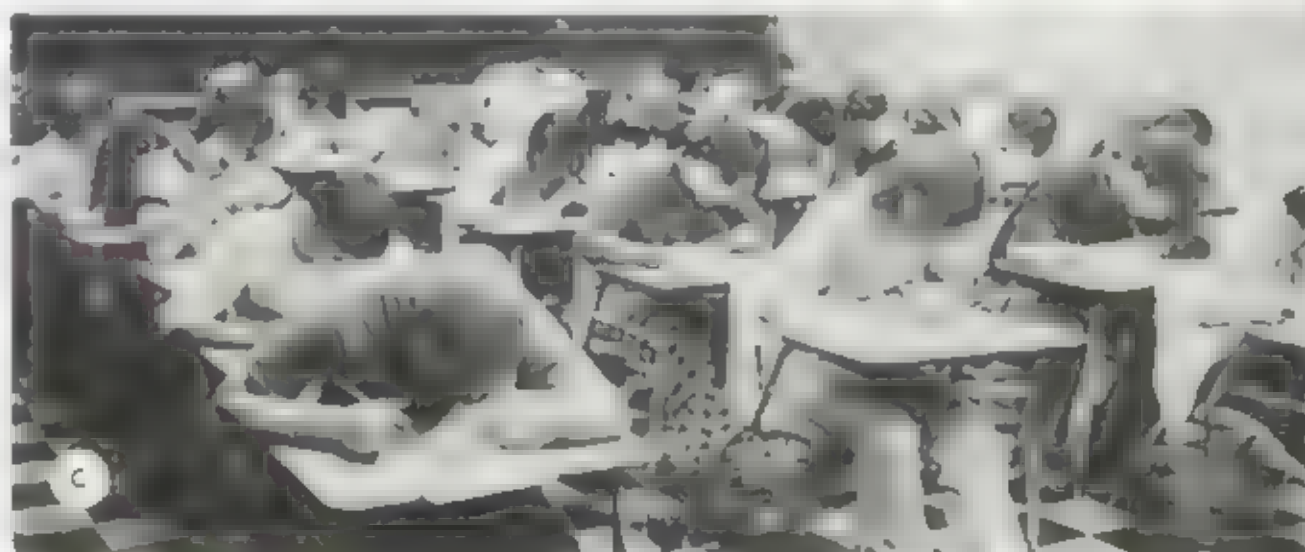

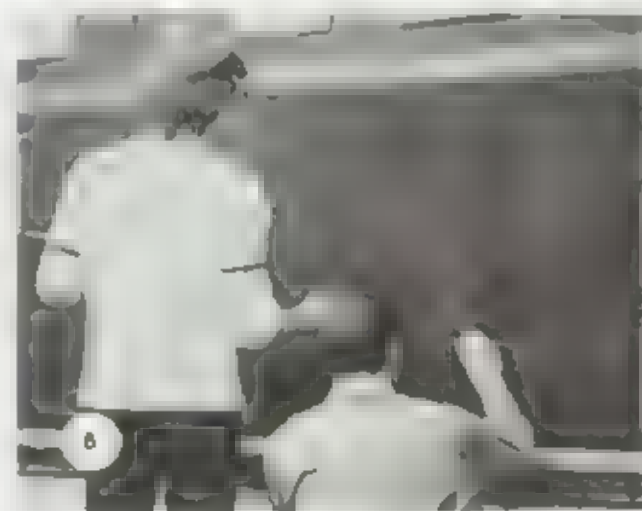

Heading up the Mathematics department at HHS this past year were Mr. Dallas Thiel, Mr. John Fast, and Mr. Lee Peter. Mr. Thiel taught jr. high math, while Mr. Fast took some 8th grade math, Algebra I and II, and senior math, leaving Mr. Peter with general math and geometry.

Jr. high math was used as a preparatory course for higher levels of math. Topics the classes studied were percentages, decimals, fractions, and elementary geometry and algebra.

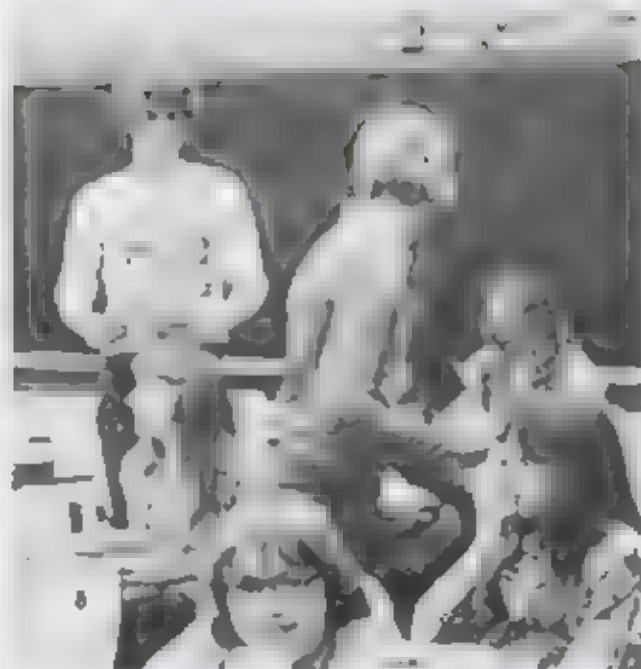

Learning different ways to solve problems was part of the task of Algebra I students. They found how to substitute variables for numbers in equations, and then use these equations to solve story problems. Algebra II continued this learning process, but delved deeper into the study of the slide rule, graphing of many types of equations, computing and using logarithms, and trigonometric functions.

General math reviewed all the basic operations students might need in years to come, doing so by dealing with practical-usage problems. Geometry introduced a different blend of topics from Euclidian, coordinate, vector, and transformational ideas. The structure of the course has gotten away from the deductive proof approach somewhat, and moved to a more general intuitive approach. Other topics included chords, triangles, quadrilaterals, circles, and the properties pertaining to them.

Furthering the mathematical skills learned thus far was the task of the senior math course. The year began with the study of vectors, and progressed through polynomial, exponential, logarithmic, and circular functions to the study of trigonometry and its various formulas.

A - Junior high math students study metric progression. B - Two senior math students work out the line of curvature on a graph. C - Algebra II students work on a logarithms tests

A - Rod Vanderstelt and James Wood concentrate as Mr. Peter explains the properties of a rectangle. B - Brad Kline helps pass back a test in junior high math. C - These junior high math students seem a bit bewildered by Mr. Fast's explanations. D - Story problems always have been and always will be a bother to figure out. E - Tony Selbert, Steve Thiel, Wendy Blosser, and Patty Meyer struggle through one of Mr. Fast's rare pop quizzes.

Music Eases Tensions

School Life Builds

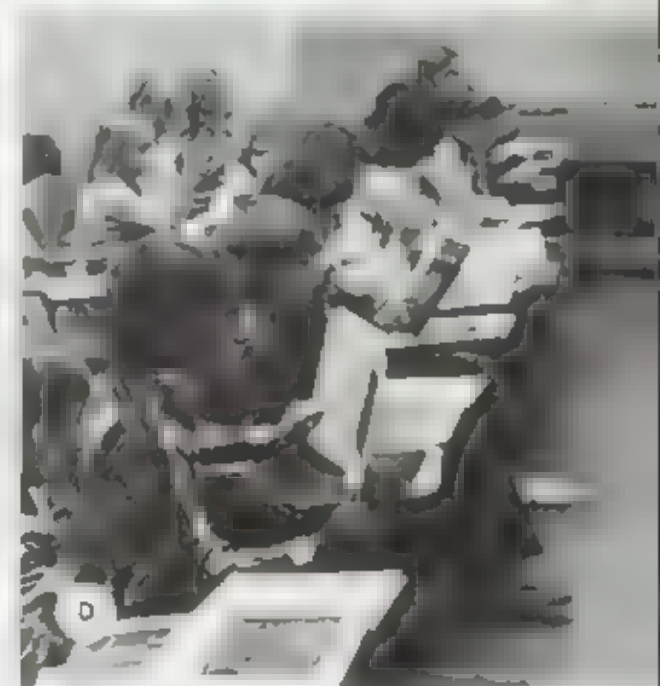

Mr. Ronald Jinks, Mrs. Kay Hallett, and Miss Donna Coleman led the HHS and HES musicians.

The elementary students were under the teaching of Mrs. Hallett. She taught them various dances and spiked their interests with songs of holiday, rhythm, patriotic, or just-plain-fun nature. Part of her task also included introducing musical theories, listening skills, and rhythm instruments.

Mr. Jinks took charge of the upper elementary grades and the junior high, freshman, and high school choirs. The fourth graders were introduced to song flutes. Fifth and Sixth graders had a boys', a girls', and a mixed choir. In class they were taught the basic elements that make up music.

Junior high vocal music consisted of a mixed choir and a girls' choir. They performed several times during the year in concerts and in the elementary school programs.

High school groups were the freshman and high school choirs. Both groups performed in several concerts throughout the year, and learned more difficult music than they were able to attempt in past years.

A - Band practice often lasts until evening in good weather. B - Junior high clarinetists blend their parts in preparation for a concert

C - In a concert for the school body, the h.s. band and freshman choir stand as the h.e. choir sings the "Hallelujah Chorus." D - Elementary musicians clap out the rhythm as they sing.

C - The lower brass add resonance to the Junior high band. D - Tape recording practices and concerts, besides providing entertainment, helps greatly in later correction of sound problems

Miss Donna Coleman was in charge of instrumental music. The 5th grade band rehearsed two days a week, with one-half hour of private instruction and 45 minutes of band practice each time. They played in the Elementary Spring Concert.

The other half of the Cadet Band, the 6th graders, played in the Christmas and Spring Elementary Concerts. They had the same practice schedule as the 5th graders.

Junior high band was featured in the final home football game halftime show of 1976. The group played at Junior High pep assemblies, and went to Junior High District contest on May 2. The band participated in the High School Spring and Christmas Concerts.

After many delays due to poor weather and cancellations, the High School Concert Band traveled to State Band Contest on April 30. They participated in the Christmas concert, and also performed in a spring "pops" concert.

Life was sparked into the away football games and home boys' and girls' basketball games by the Pep Band.

Health, Phys. Ed. Keep Minds, Bodies in Working Order Through Activity

Instructors in the Health and Physical Education department were Mr. Scott Cromwell, Mrs. Jean Siler, and Mrs. Deb Baringer.

Health topics covered throughout the year were body systems, personal appearance, personality, dangerous habits (such as tobacco, alcohol, and drugs), diseases, First Aid and Safety, and human sexuality.

Methods used to study the topics included group discussions, lectures, filmstrips and research papers.

Boys' Phys. Ed. was instructed by Mr. Cromwell. It was taught to grades 7-10. Information about the history, scoring, and terminology of many activities throughout the year was taught. At the junior high level, rules, fundamentals, and basic skills were stressed. At the senior high level, advanced skills and team sports were more heavily emphasized.

Sports participated in were basketball, volleyball, speedball, soccer, wrestling, tennis, gymnastics, table tennis, baseball, and weight lifting.

At the senior high level, advanced skills and team sports were more heavily emphasized.

Instituting New Activities Sustains Lively Interest in Physical Education

Jr. High girls' P.E. was taught by Mrs. Jean Siler. Her classes became involved with some new activities besides the old standbys of basketball, volleyball, shuffleboard, ping pong, gymnastics, soccer, and track. Gymnastics once again was made up of units on tumbling, balance beam, uneven parallel bars, and floor exercise, which combined tumbling, dance movements, and static movements to music.

New areas of interest were flag football, pom pon and flag routines, and folk dance.

New equipment included 2 new ping pong tables and a crash pad.

Mrs. Deb Baringer used many of the same sports in instructing the freshman and sophomore girls' P.E. classes. New sports were handball, fencing, weight training, self defense, and fad dancing.

Handball was a simplified game, much like tennis except replacing the racket with the players' hands. Fencing introduced the equipment and basic movements of defense and offense, including target areas of the body.

Weight training had each girl determine her best weight, then work at that level for 3 weeks before advancing. Emphasis was placed on strengthening, not building up, muscles. Self defense worked on defending one's self from attack and/or injury by being prepared for it in a car, the house, on a city street, a country road, or answering the telephone.

Dances that could be practiced at modern day events were taught in the Fad Dance section. Specific steps were several Hustles and Amos Moses.

All classes reviewed the basic skills of the activities, then added more advancement, working up to a test in that skill. Written tests discussed safety precautions.

A - One girl perfects her trampoline routine while the spotters look on. B - Mr. Cromwell goes over the functions of various muscles and organs as the class takes notes. C - Steady nerves are necessary for a good balance beam routine. D - These girls wait for their turns and applaud classmates while learning the target areas of the body.

Field Trips Are Part of Study of Environment

Many areas of study were covered in HHS Science courses.

Mr. Jerry Balser's and Mrs. Patricia Miller's eighth grade science courses were designed to make students aware of the cause-effect relationship on our environment, and to direct the students toward finding out solutions to environmental problems. The respiratory and circulatory systems of the body were also studied.

Freshman science, also under Mr. Balser, served as an introduction to the basic laws of science in Physics, Chemistry, and Biology.

A - Being educated about the systems of the body in Biology by dissection of an animal. B - Rod Bate and the rest of the Chemistry class tried out a new system - doing experiments and taking tests at their own pace. C - Freshman students solve a problem while taking notes on a field trip.

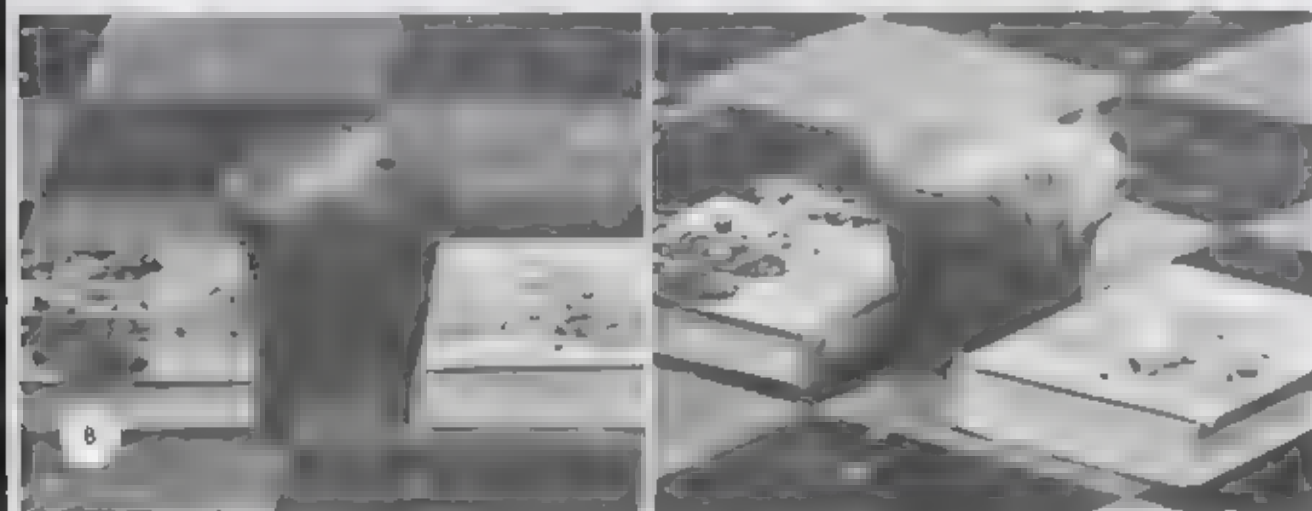

Amateur Scientists Do Experiments In Lab Work

Mr. Edwin Kaltenbach was in charge of the three higher levels of the sciences.

Biology classes discussed the evolutionary tree of man. Systems of the body were learned about through the aid of dissection of dogs and cats. A unit of ecology was also studied.

Chemistry students worked experiments on heat, equilibrium, and organic chemistry at their own pace, taking tests after each experiment before progressing to the next section.

Four main areas of study made up the Physics course. Light and Astronomy dealt with mirrors, lenses, and the evolution of stars. Heat and Radiation determined several constants used in equations and taught students about the effects of radiation and the decay of radioactive elements. Mechanics taught the application of and forces in using machines. The electricity unit went over the principles of electric currents, resistors, and the uses of electricity.

A - Anticipation of homemade ice cream shows in the expressions of these Physics students. B - Eighth graders time how long it takes a hamster to react to the smell of food. C - Accurate measuring in Chemistry is a tedious task, as Lana Tustison shows

Social Studies

Help to Enliven

Civic Interest

Teachers dealing with the social sciences were Mr. Bill Metz, Mr. George Cherry, Mr. Randy Hardy, and Mr. Tom Hallett.

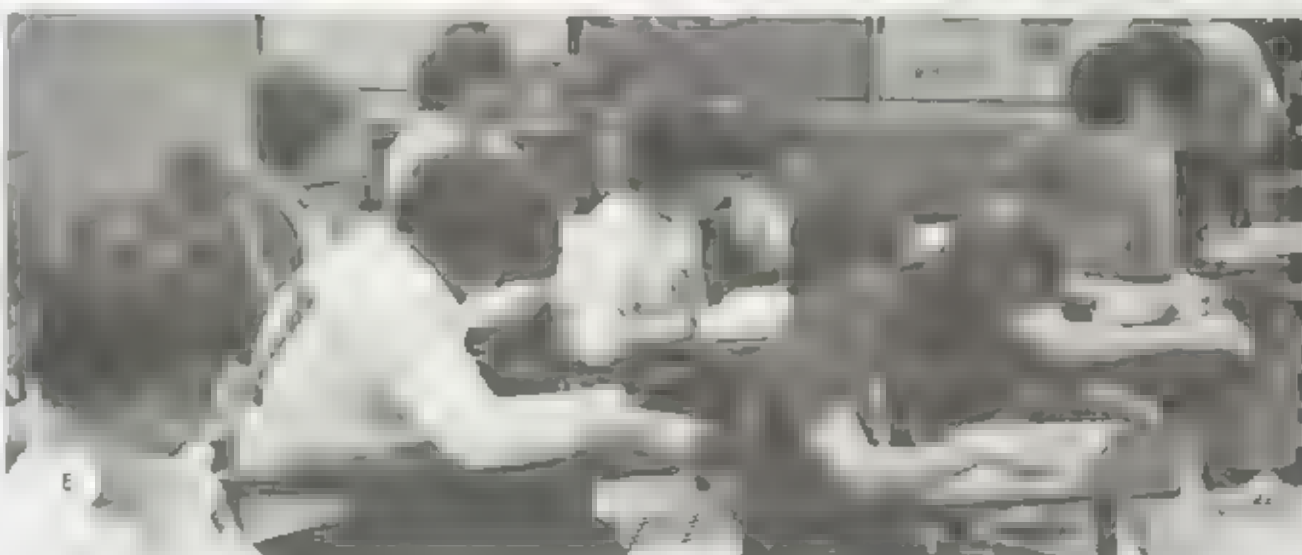

Seventh grade geography students under Mr. Metz became engrossed in learning why and how people live where they do. Time was spent on map work, where each continent was studied through oral reports.

Mr. Hardy's 8th grade American history classes studied current events by using the video tape machinery, and making their own news program. Along with their independent study projects the students learned about the cause - and - effect relationship throughout history.

Civics classes talked and found out about local, state, and federal governments. Bookwork was augmented by reports and a trip to the city building.

Early exploration and foundation of Ohio was studied in Ohio History. Present findings and accomplishments of Ohioans were also taught. During the last 2 weeks of the semester each student had to complete a project and report about some aspect of the state.

Career opportunities were looked into in the Guidance classes. Films, filmstrips, and pamphlets on current and future occupations were useful in independent research. Information was also available in the Guidance Office.

Before viewing a film
the preliminary

Upper Levels Study Man in Relation of Self, World

World events were observed through TIME magazine in Mr. Hardy's World History class. Past and present areas of world importance, such as the Depression and the Middle East, were studied through simulation games.

By studying American history, students in Mr. Hardy's classes hoped to gain insight into our culture, to instill pride in our past accomplishments, to learn from the errors of the past, and to approach the future with hope and independence.

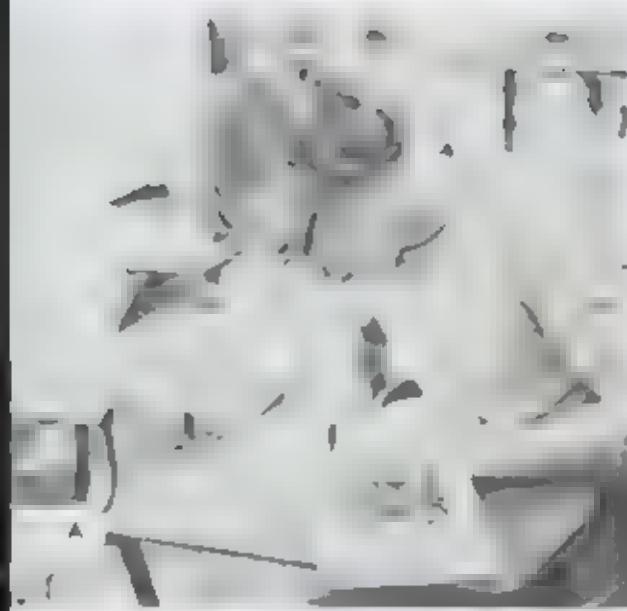

Mr. Cherry's Geography class studied landforms and climates, with emphasis on their relation to man. The ability of man to adapt to conditions both natural and created was delved into.

The main reason for taking Mr. Hallett's Government course was to acquaint students with governmental institutions and their methods of operation. Comparison and analysis was also made of different types of economic and governmental systems.

Psychology placed emphasis on the fact that all humans share the same basic psychological and physical needs, and that those needs transcend race, creed, status, and geographic location. Understanding among people was stressed - the harms of prejudice, ignorance, and distorted ideas were shown.

Sociology was devoted to man and his activities in social groups. Groups were shown as a force that shaped children to fit their unique behavior. The class also looked into the rules, organizations, and values enabling man to live together.

• Dan Fowler composes a report for psychology. • Diane Amaden in Ohio history indicates where Lexington is located on the map. • C - Indicating the next term, Randy Headley and Jim Gambrel look up the definitions of their government assignment. • D - After just passing through our Bicentennial, American history class can sound slightly

1st Year French Sparks Interest in Languages

French was a new subject at HHS this year and was taught by Miss Susan Krout.

Being the first year for this language, the class was small. They used the audio-lingual approach, which involves repetition with a tape recording. They also enjoyed learning about the customs of the French people.

Culture activities this year included a crepe-making party, the celebration of La Fete des Rois (The Feast of the Kings) on January 6, Poisson d'Avril (Fish Day/April Fool's Day) on April 1, and making May Day flower baskets for le Premier Mai (May 1st).

The class finished the year with a banquet including various French foods made by class members.

Enlighten Spanish Classes

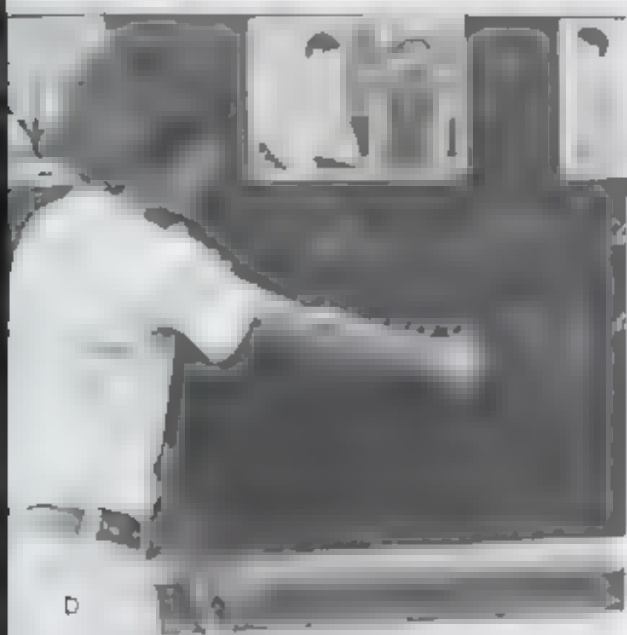

Besides teaching French, Miss Susan Krout also taught the Spanish I, II, and III classes.

Basic grammar was learned in Spanish I via the use of tape recordings, elementary conversations, and language games.

Favorite games were "Football," which split the room into two teams, each side gaining "yards" for correctly answering questions, such as the conjugation of a verb, and "Dice" where the numbers on two dice corresponded to numbers matching verbs and the form the students were to put the verb into. If the student got the verb correct, he or she would add the number on the two dice to his score - the person having the highest score winning that round.

Spanish II continued the study of grammar, putting it to use through reading selections in the students' language magazine, EL SOL, and playing language games like the Spanish I students.

Reading and speaking skills were concentrated on in Spanish III, with advanced grammar being stressed. The students enjoyed viewing films-trips on Spanish customs, such as bullfighting, sports, and Christmas customs.

Latin Shows Its Influence on Language and History

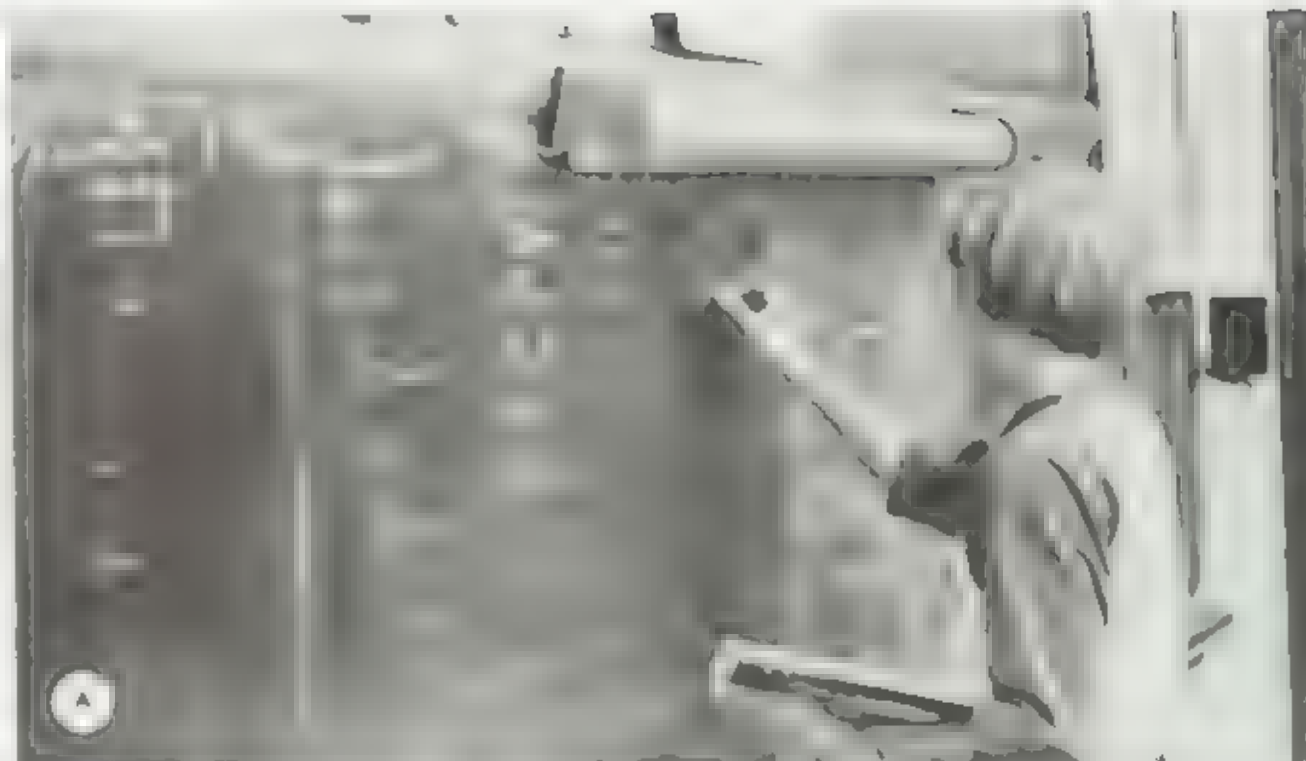

The Classics Department of HHS was under the direction of Mrs. Margaret McAdams. In Latin I, the students were instituted into basic grammar and vocabulary work. Along with these topics came short translations of mythology stories.

Once again the students were required to put together a Latin Notebook consisting of six basic parts: alphabet (pictures), cartoons, derivatives, Roman life articles, advertising (how Latin or mythology is used in advertising), and notes from class work.

More involved grammar work was part of the Latin II assignment. They did translations of Roman civilization and the history of Rome. A special unit on the Life of Julius Caesar was studied, including the reading of his GALLIC COMMENTARIES about the Gallic Wars.

The advanced Latin students were also required to build a notebook, which for both classes was due in May.

To assist in vocabulary review, LATIN (Latin BINGO) was played.

A - Jeff Plassman fills in a table of noun endings. B - Mrs. McAdams lists some general review material for her students to study for an upcoming quiz. C - Robin Mettett argues on a point of translation with Mrs. McAdams.

Varied English Courses

Appeal to Many Interests

Mrs. Dorothy Rohrs, Mrs. Margaret McAdams, Ms. Carolyn Abraham, and Mrs. Sandra Redden headed the English department.

Mrs. Rohrs was responsible for junior high English, where it was essential that the fundamentals of grammar (parts of speech, sentence structure, compositions of different lengths, letter writing, filling out order forms, etc.) be stressed. Spelling words were given weekly - 20 to the 7th graders and 30 to the 8th graders.

The literature text included stories, poems, and dramas appealing to today's youth whether they were classical in nature or from modern authors.

Theresa Gledhill won the annual Spelling Bee, with Ted Hostetler being first runner up.

The high school courses were again divided into sections of writing and literature courses. The students were able to choose (outside of those courses required for freshmen) what they wished to take.

A - Debate gives Dennis Durre a chance to air his views on the topic at hand. B - Lonny Wires and Paula Hergenroether become unhappy when they find that after copying off the SPOONDRIFT, several grammatical errors went uncorrected. C - Roberta Ream and James Mahan show their talents in Drama Production class. D - Learning to design layouts for the advertisements for the yearbook is the task of Dianna Onstott, Joni Slattery, and Paula Hill in Journalism II. E - Mrs. Redden adds interest to her literature courses with attractive bulletin board displays.

Writing Courses

Develop Talent

in Composition

Writing courses were taken in the first and third nine weeks periods.

Ms. Abraham taught Research Writing, Basic Writing, Advanced Writing, Freshman Poetry, Speech I and II, and Debate.

The purpose of Research Writing was to teach students how to properly research and write a term paper. Basic and Advanced Writing furthered students skills in composition. Freshman poetry introduced the 9th graders to that art form. Speech I, II, and Debate taught pupils to express themselves verbally in group discussions.

Mrs. Redden taught Basic and Advanced Creative Writing, Grammar Review, Drama Production, and Basic Usage.

The creative writing courses let student authors use their imaginations and work out their own projects. Grammar Review went over the basics most students learned as freshmen in Basic Usage. Drama Production showed individuals how to produce a written work as a show.

Mrs. McAdams taught Mass Media I and II, and Freshman English.

Mass media courses dealt with the study of the newspaper and television, respectively. Freshman English went over the basic parts of speech.

Lit. Courses Offer Variety: From Old Masters, Novels to Modern Poetry, Short Stories

For the second and fourth nine weeks, literature courses were offered.

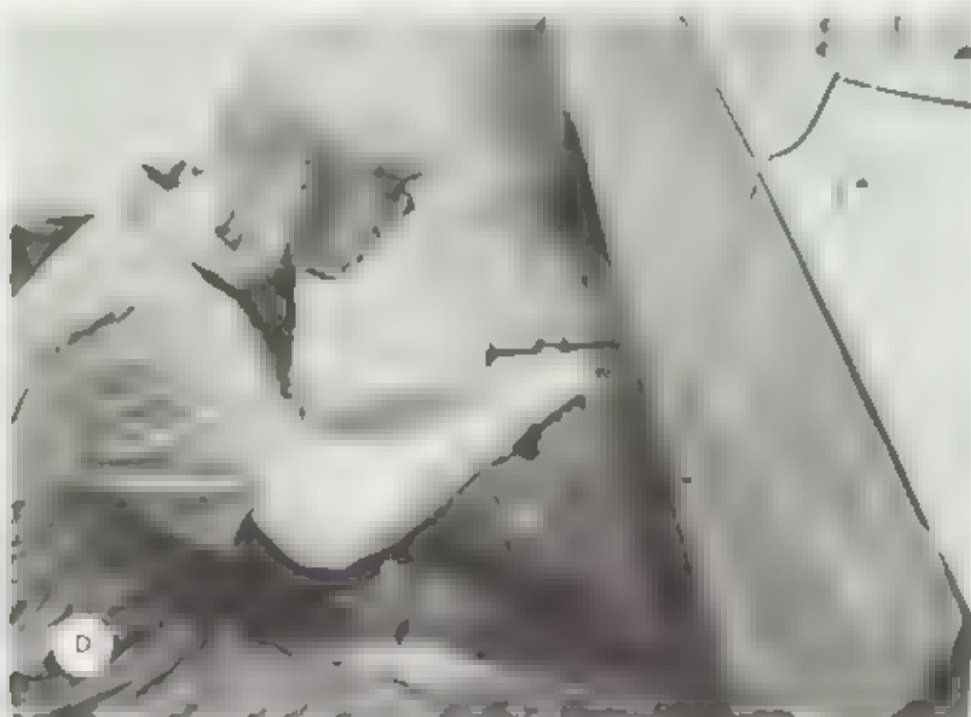

Ms. Abraham taught City in Literature, Science Fiction, literature of War, Classical Novel, and Short Story. These classes read stories or novels by different authors which pertained to the topic of the class.

Mrs. Redden taught Shakespearean Tragedy and Comedy, Mark Twain, Freshman Short Story, Modern Novel, and Medieval Literature. Her courses were handled in the same manner as Ms. Abraham's.

Mrs. McAdams taught Mystery and Biography/Autobiography. Those classes dealt with short stories in the nature of their class.

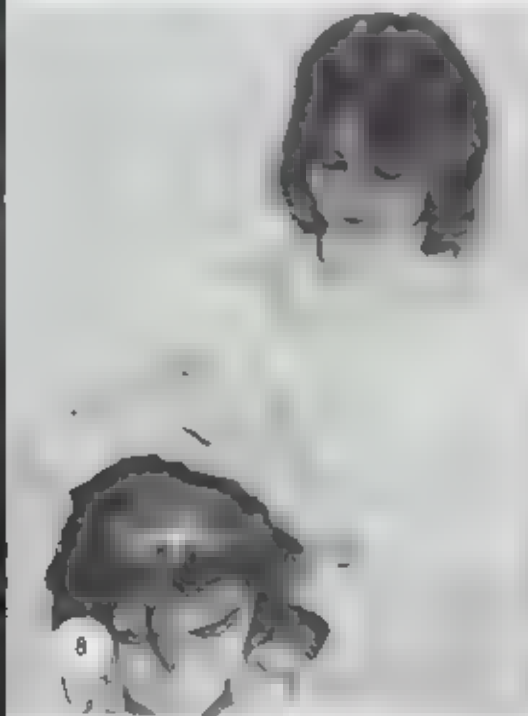

Other classes offered were Journalism I, which put out the SPOONDRIFT, and Journalism II, which was in charge of putting together the HIXONIAN. Eighth graders also had their own English course.

A - Leafing through a dictionary, Ed Welty defines word power terms. B - Mrs. Rohrs hands out book report assignments to her junior high students in story class. Deb Hanna scans "A Tale of Two Cities" before the test. D - Dianna Rohlf, Carolyn Meyer, and Lonny Wires speculate about their Journalism I semester test grade.

This past school year 42 juniors and seniors from HHS attended the Four County Joint Vocational School. Along with their chosen programs, each student had to take related subjects which combined with their class studies.

These included such subjects as government, various levels of math, business law and management, and English. They also saw films, held discussions concerning problems they encountered, made notebooks, learned new techniques, or did various typing assignments.

Four County Students

Acquire Job Skills

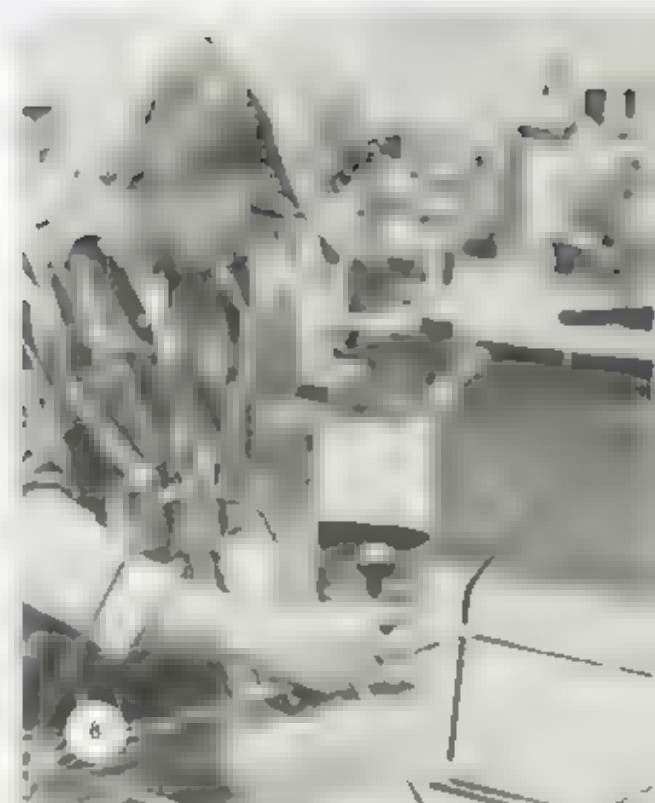

In lab periods, students in programs in the area of business did activities and worked with machines as they would have done in a regular office, which included working for the staff or doing projects for teachers.

Those in automotive programs worked on cars, doing such things as sanding, painting, and repairing engines. The Senior Carpentry students built a house, and the Junior Carpentry students built and installed the cabinets. The juniors also built small barns, dog houses, and projects for other schools.

In the area of electronics, students worked with and repaired electrical devices. In Architectural Drafting lab periods, students gained experience drawing plans, designing house models, and drawing and revising plans for the school or school clients.

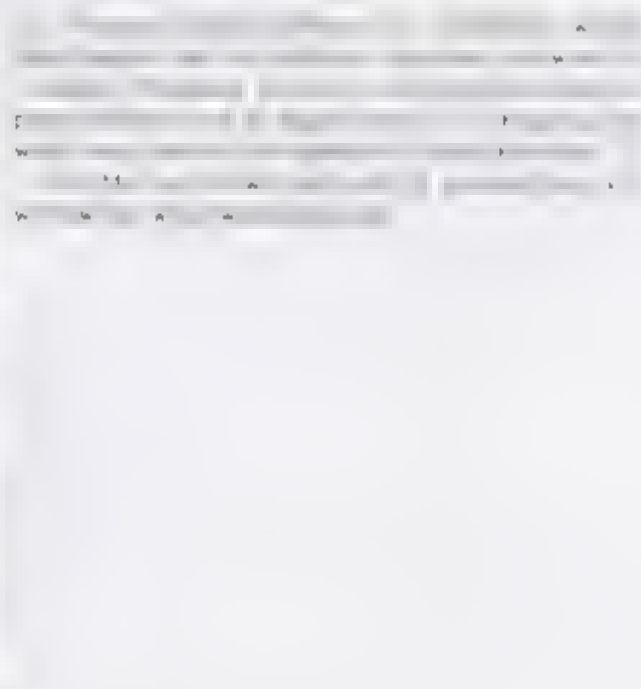

Those involved in Child Care programs played with and guided the behavior of small children, and planned special activities for them on holidays. In Commercial Art, students painted signs and did ads for companies.

In Junior Cosmetology, the students worked on each other in lab, cutting, styling, or coloring their hair. Senior Cosmetologists got to do the same on customers from outside the school.

Field Trips

Add Interest

Most courses of study include field trips. Art classes visited the Toledo Museum of Art. Cosmetology students went to hair styling shows and visited county rest homes to do the patients' hair.

Factories, architectural firms, and other course-related businesses were toured by Drafting students. Those involved in the Welding programs went to GM in Defiance, Ohio, and Biljax in Archbold, Ohio.

Engine repair classes observed the workings of area shops and assembly plants.

Stenography students traveled to Owens Corning and IBM offices Toledo, Ohio. They also visited a Defiance, Ohio bank and the Defiance Courthouse. The Bookkeeping classes toured the Toledo Edison Company in Toledo, Ohio.

In Data Accounting, the offices of LaChoy and the Farmers and Merchants State Bank in Archbold, Ohio, were visited. Other trips they took were to Toledo and Bryan, Ohio, and Ft. Wayne, Indiana.

Lights and Sound -- --Ed Wells

"Harvey," by Mary Coyle Chase was presented by the Junior class Friday, October 8, and Sunday, October 10, under the direction of Miss Virlynn Rex.

The play told the story of the daft but harmless Elwood P. Dowd and his companion, an invisible six-foot-one-and-a-half-inch rabbit named Harvey.

Elwood's fussy sister, Veta, seemed to think it was a nuisance to have to set a place at the table and to make up a bed for such a large creature.

When Sister decided to have Elwood committed to a nice respectable sanitarium, she herself was ordered by a confused psychiatrist to be held for treatment - for she said that she thought she had seen Harvey once or twice.

From then on, the complications were comical, mad, and unpredictable.

Queen Joni and Her Court

This year's version of Homecoming was different from all others. Much color, excitement, and splendor was present as usual but the variety of the floats, and the team that was the Aces opponent, were both new to the local fans. The Red Machine however did not let the Lima Perry Commodores get in their way as they mauled their counterparts 40-14. This was typical throughout the year for the Hicksville Aces Gridders.

The evening started off with the parade, with the Aces Marching Band, the Queen and her court, and the floats leaving the high school parking lot, and marching down to the field. The floats were then judged with the Freshmen being the winner.

On the field, festivities started as the Queen, her escort, and her attendants and their escorts walked across the field and up to the pressbox for the formal crowning.

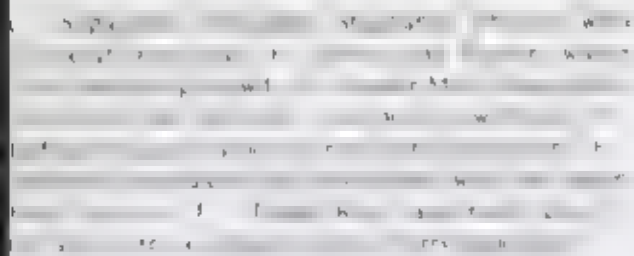

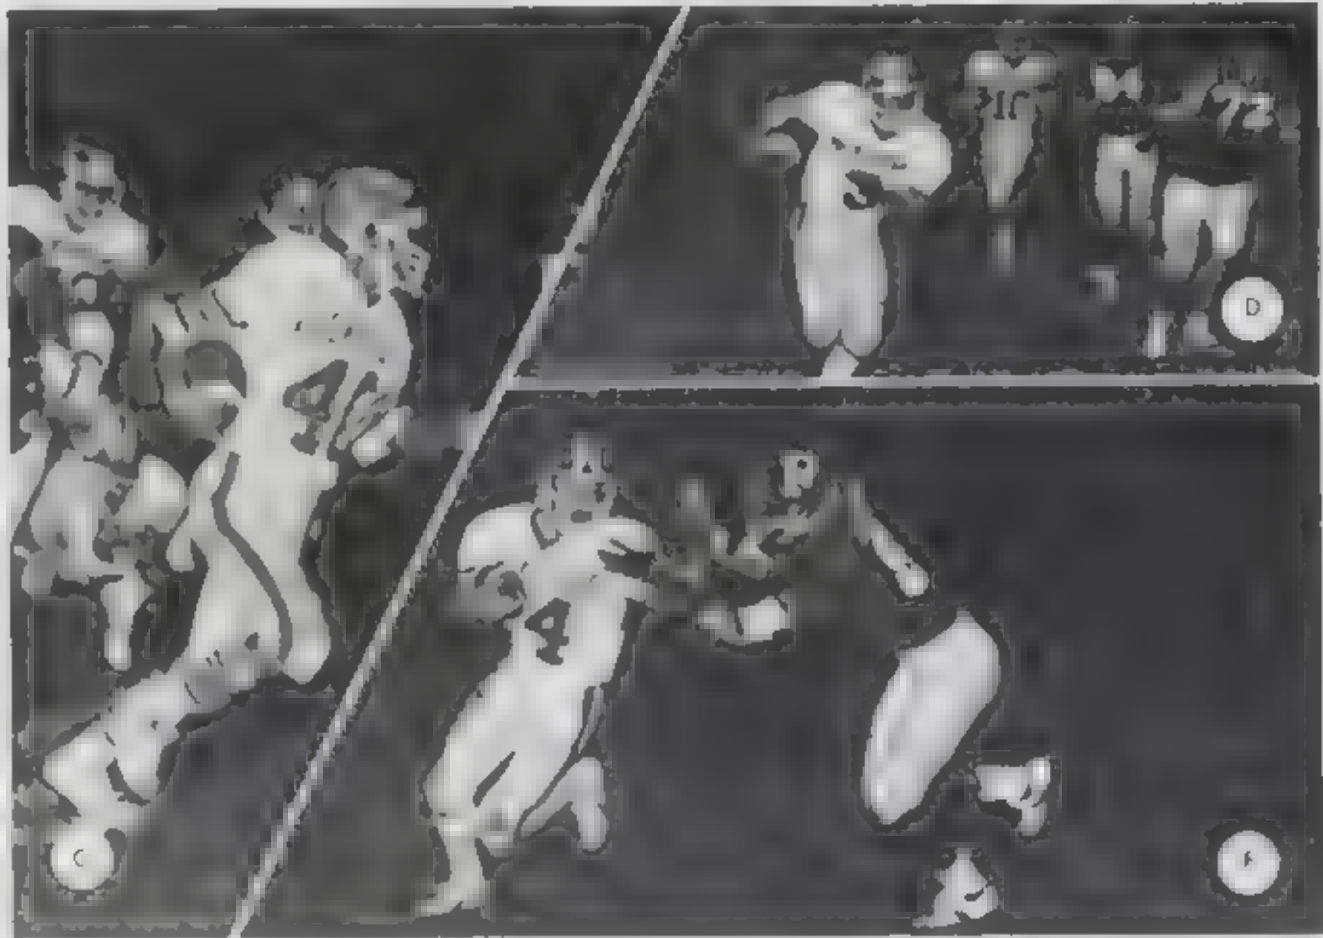

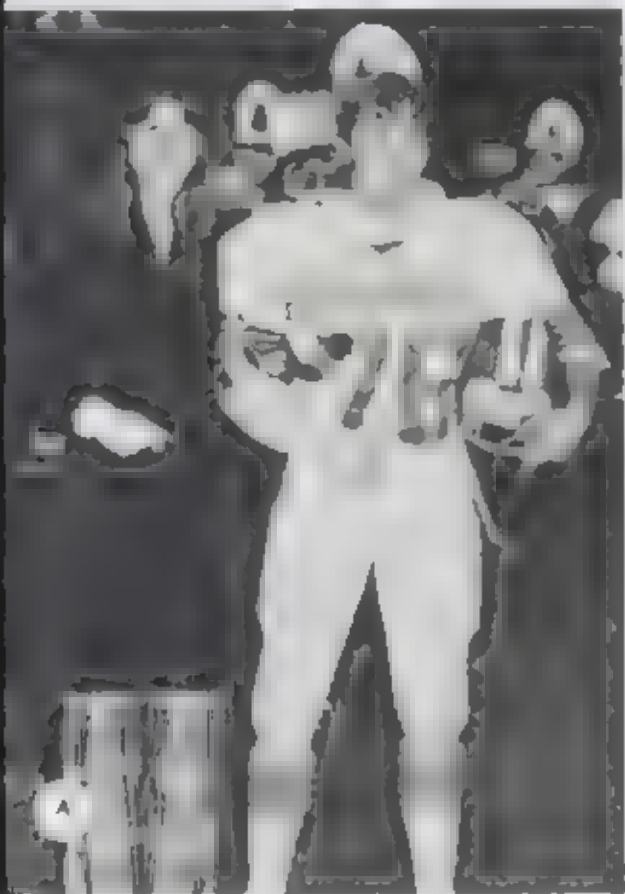

Queen Joni thanked the fans and supporters, then gave the game ball to senior Mike Quaintance after he crowned Joni Queen. Mike then thanked Joni and said he hoped the Aces could bring home a victory, which they did.

After the gridgers defeated the Commodores, the traditional dance was held. Music was provided by Marv Blanchard and his band, The Misty's. Refreshments were made available by the HHS Student Council who sponsored the dance.

This years' Musical was George M, which was put on in the fall instead of the spring which had been done before. The show starts as Jerry Cohan, who is in the middle of a performance, finds out his first born is a son, whom he names George M. Cohan. Little Georgie grows into a brash and mature actor, singer, dancer and his father and mother. Nellie Cohan are amazed. George with his parents and his talented sister Josie become a sing and dance team soon known throughout the country. The whole crew suffered many setbacks and hardships during the years they were trying to make it to Broadway, before they were eventually made it to the top. Little Georgie met his first love in Ethel Levey and through a quick courtship were married off. Ethel found later that she couldn't take the constant running around so tried to explain to George why she was leaving him. George was hurt yes, but soon Agnes Nolan came along and she somehow understood the wacky and witty George. They married and all was well till Jerry unexpectedly died. Everyone was sorrowed and in the end, Little Georgie retired from show business, letting the younger entertainers take over.

Exchange Students Meet Challenge of Life in America

Four foreign exchange students roamed the halls of HHS. Two were seniors and graduated with the class of '77. One was a junior and the other an eighth grader.

Marja Marttila from Finland stayed with the William Plassman family. She and Tuija Talvitie, also from Finland, who resided with the Bernard Whonsetler family, were the two seniors. (For more information, see pages 131 and 134.)

Fernando Pereira Croce's home is in Sao Paulo, Brazil. A talented pianist, he lived with the Richard Green family. He was a member of the junior class.

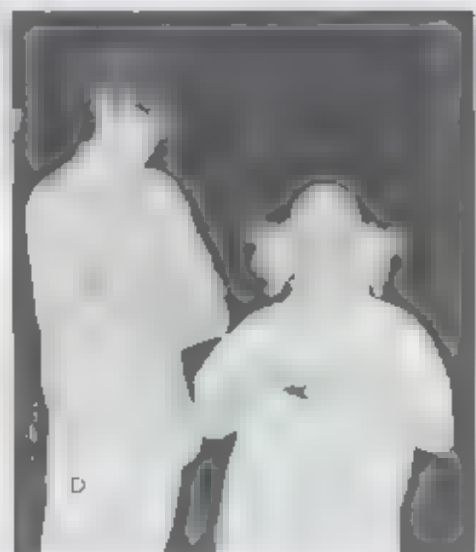

The remaining student, eighth grader Cassia Marinko Moeira, comes from Belem-Pavea, Brazil. Dancing and gymnastics are her hobbies, and she stayed with the Ken Stoller family.

1. The first step is to identify the main topic of the document. This is often found in the title or the first few paragraphs.

2. Next, we need to determine the purpose of the document. Is it to inform, persuade, or entertain?

3. Then, we should look for the main arguments or points made by the author.

4. Finally, we should consider the conclusion or the overall message of the document.

LIFE

Tanya Kravina Tashiro, an exchange student from Mexico, visited sport almost a year in Hawaii by staying with the Tashiro's whose father, a doctor, she followed to Hawaii to live with her parents. She was very happy and she had a lot of fun and she was very happy and she was very happy.

I will return to the subject of the two new records that I published in 1954.
 The two records are of the same type as the others.

I just finished the article on the pre- and post-war era. I was particularly interested in the role of the state in the economy and the impact of the war on the economy. I was particularly interested in the role of the state in the economy and the impact of the war on the economy. I was particularly interested in the role of the state in the economy and the impact of the war on the economy.

1. The first step is to identify the key components of the system. This includes understanding the hardware, software, and network architecture.

2. The second step is to analyze the system's performance. This involves monitoring various metrics such as response time, throughput, and error rates.

3. The third step is to identify the root cause of the problem. This can be done by using tools like network analyzers and log files.

4. The fourth step is to implement a solution. This may involve upgrading hardware, optimizing software, or reconfiguring the network.

5. The fifth step is to test the solution. This ensures that the problem has been resolved and that the system is performing as expected.

6. The sixth step is to document the findings. This helps in future troubleshooting and provides a record of the problem and its resolution.

7. The seventh step is to communicate the results. This involves sharing the findings with the relevant stakeholders.

8. The eighth step is to review the process. This helps in identifying areas for improvement and ensuring that the same problem does not recur.

9. The ninth step is to implement preventive measures. This can include regular updates, backups, and security checks.

10. The tenth step is to monitor the system continuously. This helps in detecting any new issues as they arise.

1. The first step is to identify the key components of the system. This includes understanding the hardware, software, and data involved.

Class of '77 Joins for One Brief Moment

The years we were together were but a brief moment in our joining, for the memories, good or bad, will remain forever. Looking back, the years were spent well.

CLASS SONG

"Theme from Mahogany" ("Do You Know Where You're Going To")

CLASS COLORS

Cocoa Brown and Harvest Gold

CLASS FLOWER

Yellow Rose

"Dream what you
dare to dream,
Go where you want to go,
Be what you want to be,
Live!"

- Johnathan
Livingston
Seagull.

Superintendent Latta Retires After

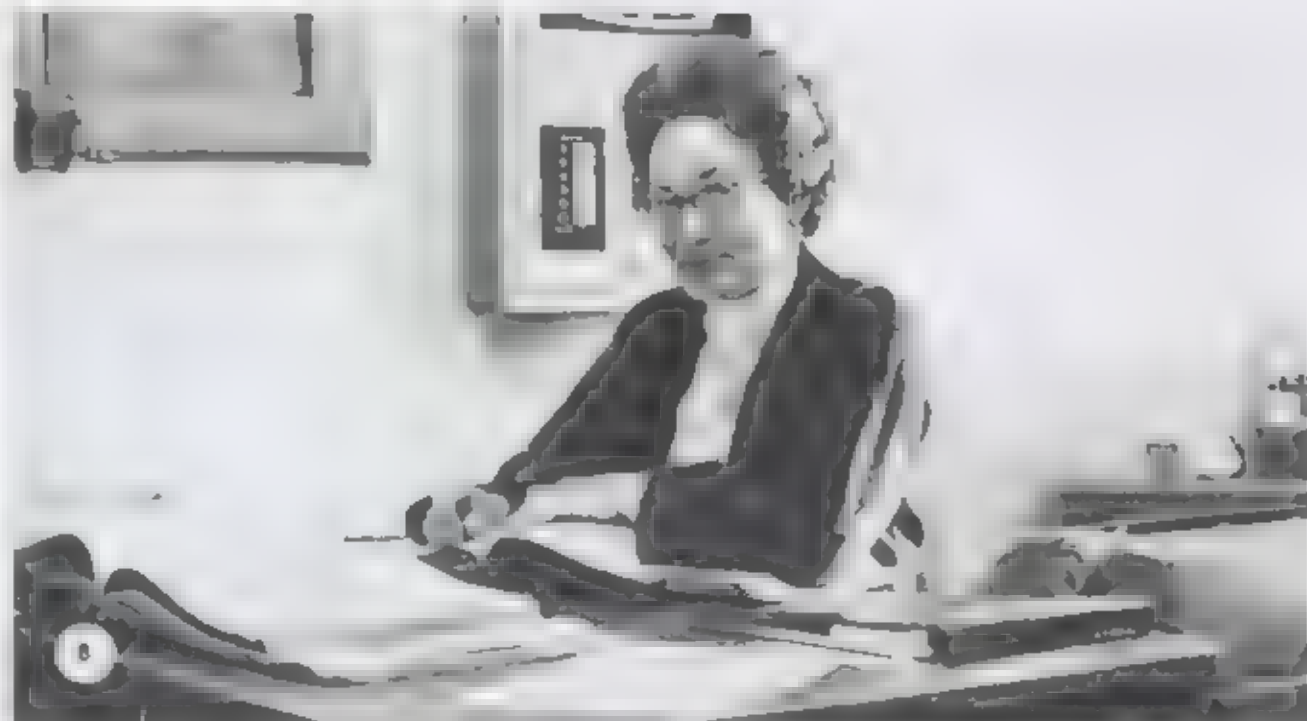

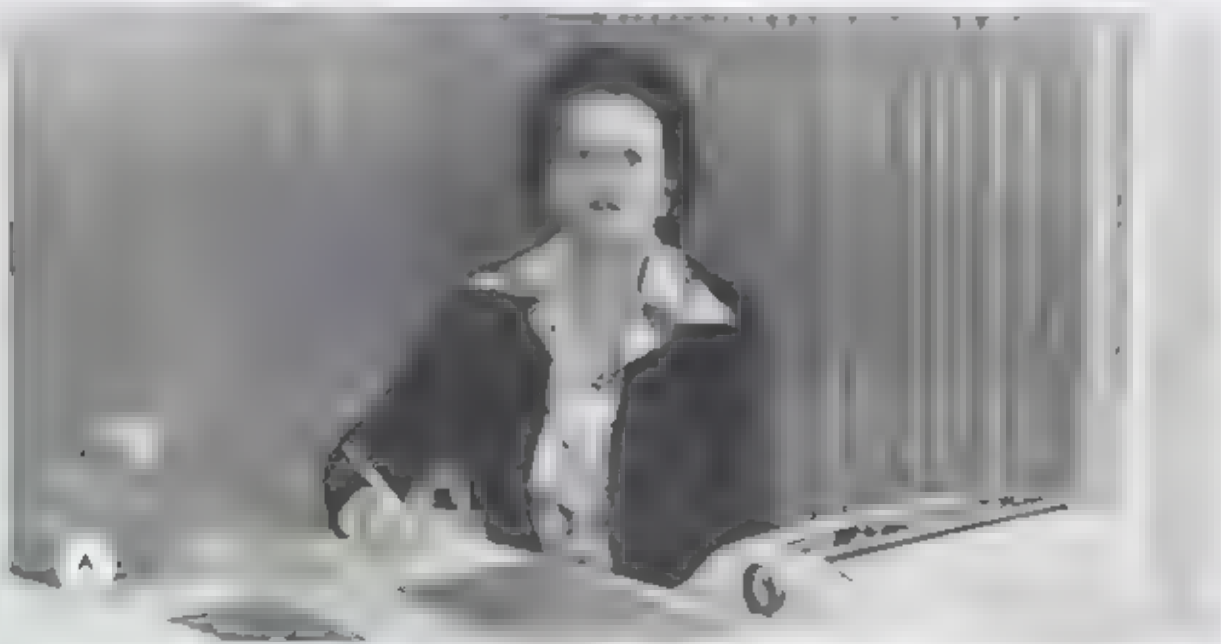

Superintendent Lester Latta announced this past fall that he was retiring after almost thirty years of service in the school system.

- A - As High School Principal, Mr. Thomas Kurry spends much time on the phone in conference with surrounding school officials.
- B - Mr. Raymond Hook keeps schedules running smoothly as Elementary School Principal.
- C - Leaving notes for the next day's conferences, Superintendent Mr. Lester Latta finishes his work for the day.
- D - Guidance Counselor Mrs. Katherine Wise checks students' schedules to make sure they have enough credits.
- E - Mrs. Martha Green, Clerk of the School Board, also does secretarial work for Mr. Latta.

Thirty Years of Administrating

B Mrs. George H. H. H. is working on the news paper at the school.
C Mrs. George H. H. H. is working on the news paper at the school.
D Mrs. George H. H. H. is working on the news paper at the school.

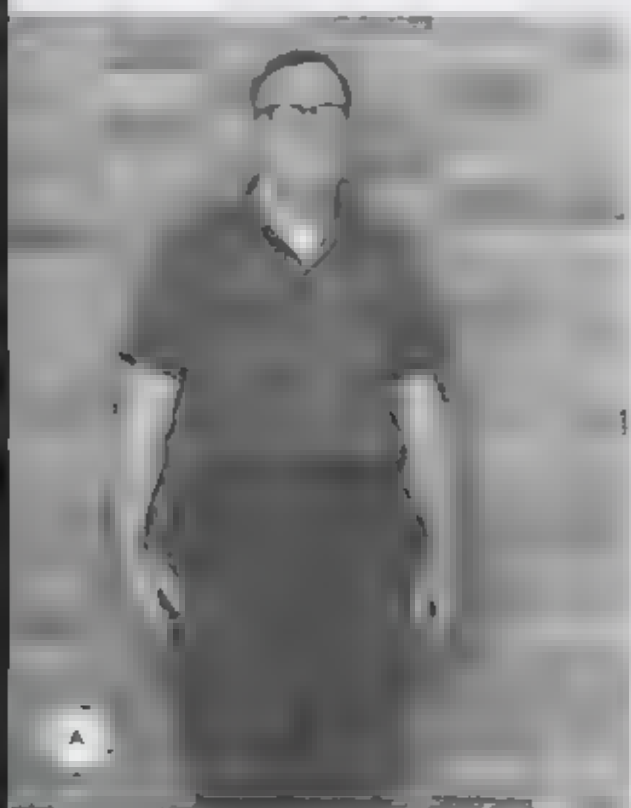

Behind Scenes' Personnel Do Important Tasks

Questions from the public were answered at an open school board meeting. Topics discussed were why the cafeteria doesn't sell foods that students would like (such as pizza), why there are no vending machines for fruit juices and other foods, why the residency requirement for teachers had been adopted and the possible problems with an unmarried man teaching co-ed health classes.

Mrs. Haver Retires as Cafeteria Manager

Mrs. Pauline Haver announced her retirement from the post of cafeteria manager, a position she had held for several years.

She had started out as a cashier, then had progressed to head cook and then finally manager of the cafeterias of both the high school and elementary school.

Mrs. Haver ends a 21-year long career with the Hicksville school system.

High school custodian Arden Bauer (A) - and electrician Rex (B) - handle the working conditions. Adams, Fanny Yoder, and Barb Thiel get ready to serve lunch to the hungry grade schoolers. D - Cafeteria assistants Tim Flanary, Harold Brown, Kathy Gaston, Dave Elcher, and Rod Hissong help to serve looking back at all we planned,

High school cooks (seated) Jean Haver, (standing) Mary Kleppet, and Ruth Timbrook rest before fixing another day's meal.

Now,

we let so many dreams

just slip through our hands.

Why must we wait so long,

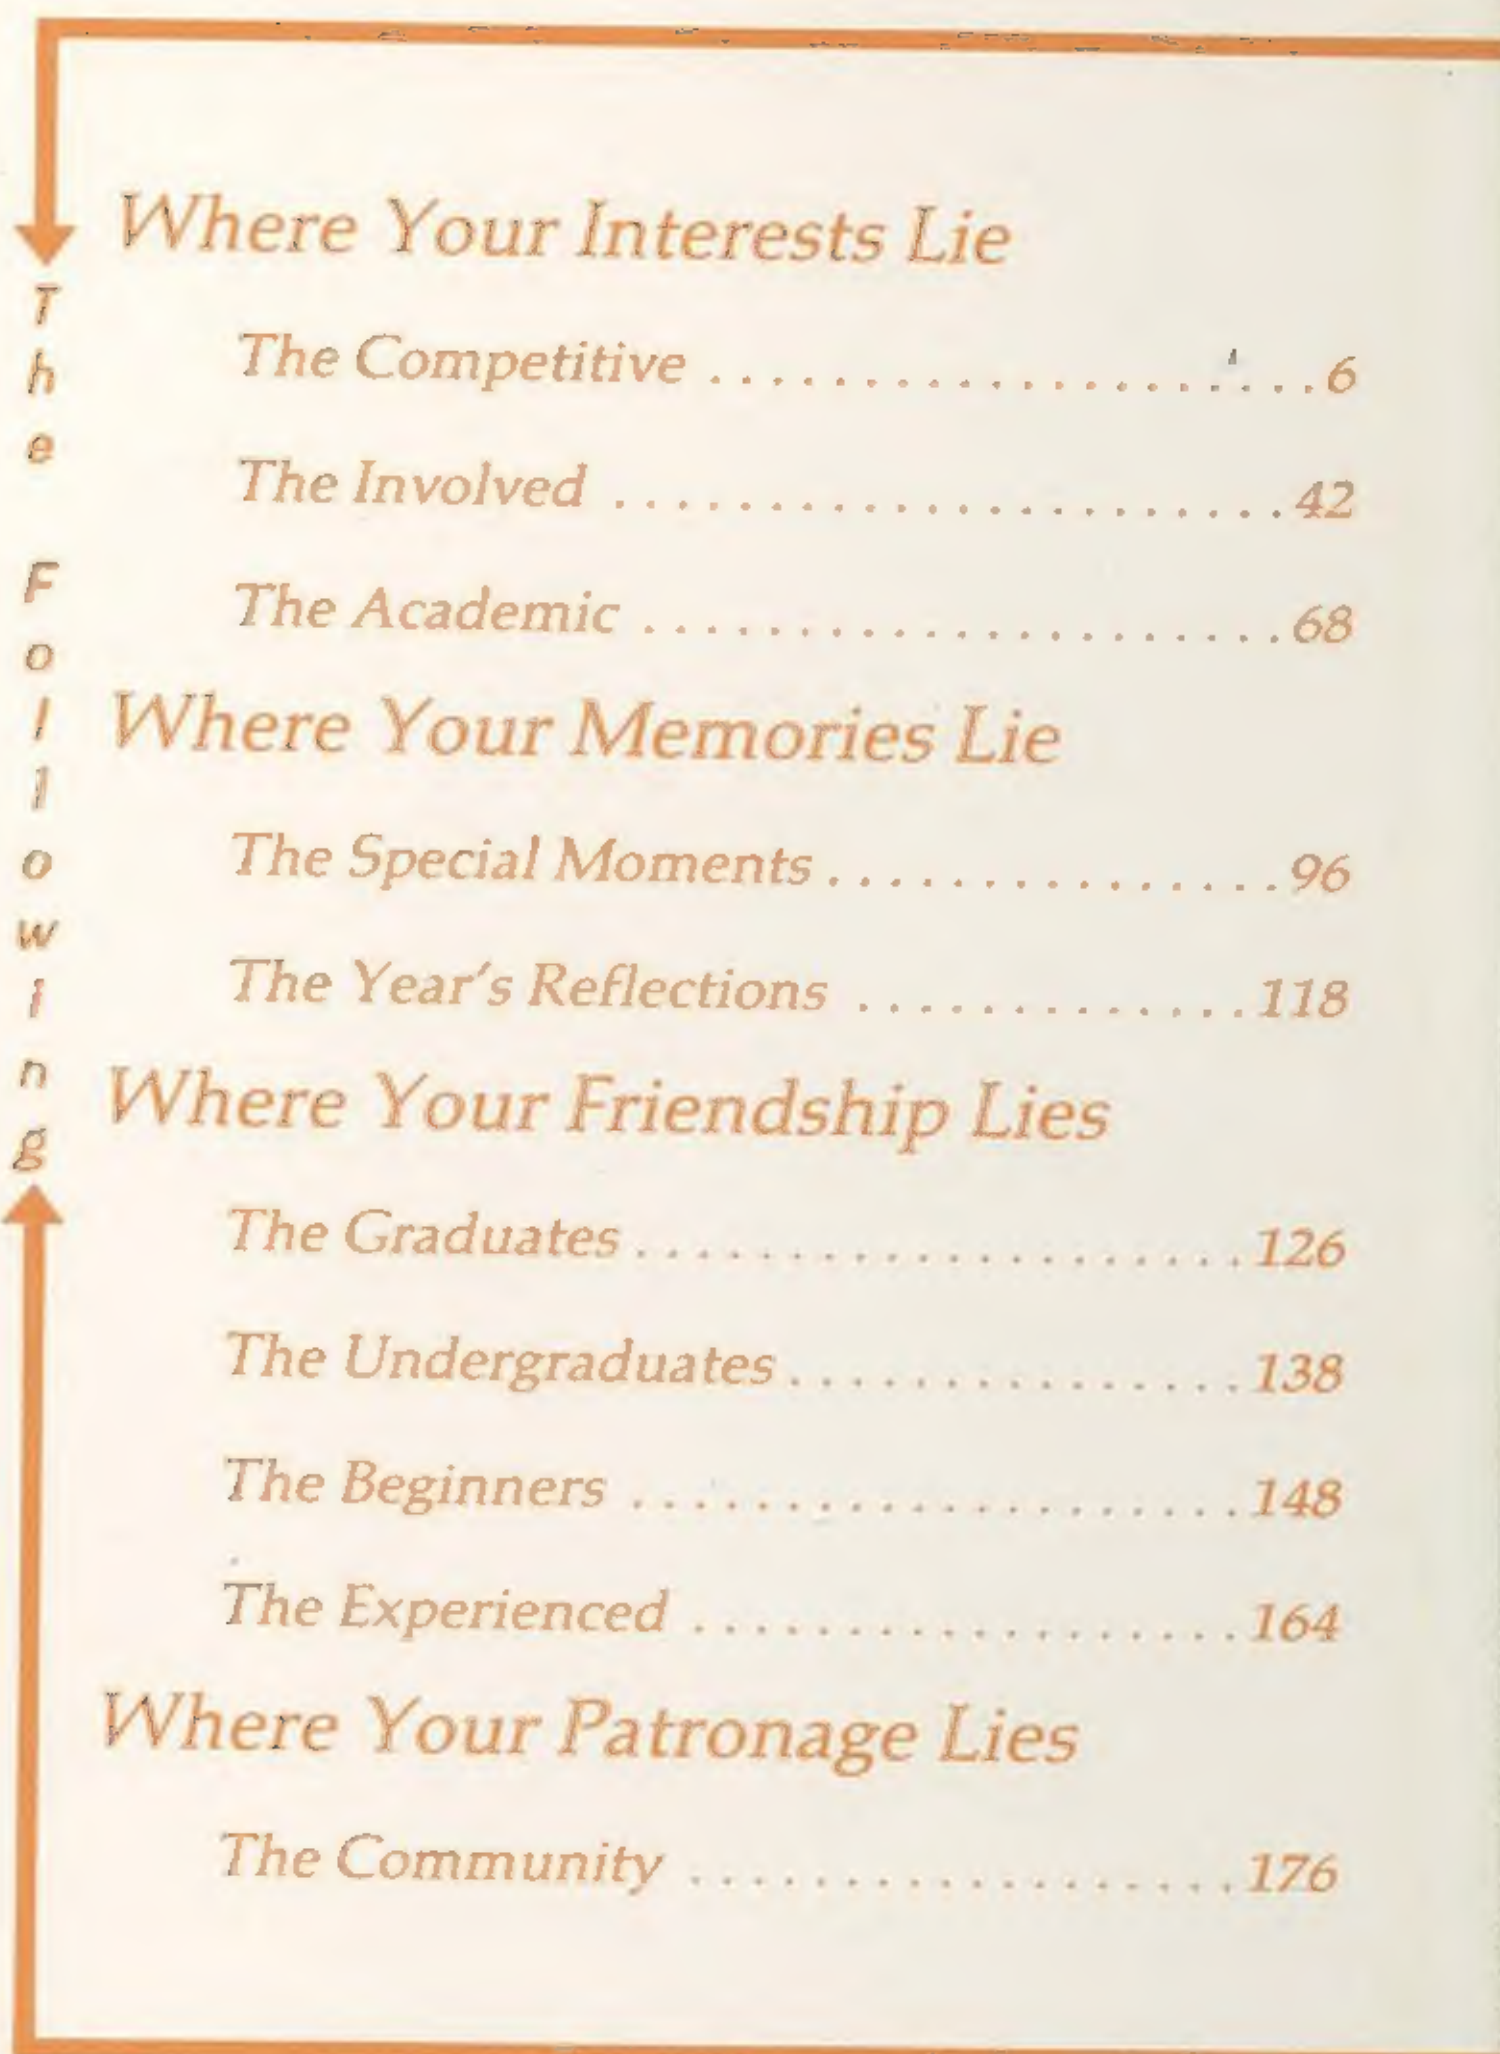

before we see

how sad the answers to those questions can be.
